This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. MENDHAM COURT BOOK.

At a court held for the Manor of Mendham, Kingshall, Suffolk, on 6th October, 1619, it was presented that Robert Gawsell, Gent., son of Sir Edward Gawsell, Knt., and Mary his wife, who was eldest daughter of Robert Halle, Gent., the uncle of Frances Hall, deceased, daughter and heir of John Halle, Gent., and Christopher Athowe, who married Martha, sister of said Mary Gawsell, held free lands in Shottesham late of said John Halle, who held them of that manor by knight service, and that said Robert Gawsell was eight years old and in ward of the king.

At the same court Christopher Athowe, Gent., and Martha his wife, one of the cousins and coheirs of Frances Hall (viz., one of the daughters and coheirs of Robert Hall, Gent., brother of John Hall, Gent., father of said Frances) surrendered one moiety of copyhold property in Mendham, part of same estate on sale; the other moiety could not be conveyed, being in Robert Gawsell the minor.

In 1622, Gregory Gausell of Watlington, Gent., was admitted to the other moiety as guardian of Robert Gawsell the minor, who was said to be of the age of fourteen years * on the 4th April in that year (1622).

The inferences to be drawn from this inquisition are as follows :—

1. Margaret, the wife of Thomas Lumnor of Manington, was in some way connected with John Heydon, Esq., [Query, of Baconsthorpe? See Paston Letters] who settled upon Thomas and Margaret and their heirs male the Sharington estate.
2. That Margaret survived her first husband, Thomas Lumner, and subsequently married (2) Thomas Brigge or Briggs, and (3) Edmund Paston, Esq.
3. That by the first husband she had a son and heir, Thomas Lumnor, who married about the 9th Feb., 16 Henry VII. [1502], when the estate was once more settled upon him and his heirs male, and died 20th September, 17 Henry VIII.
4. That he left behind him a son and heir, Thomas Lumnor (the subject of this inquisition), who died 4th December, 33 Henry VIII., leaving behind him a son and heir, William Lumnor, aged eleven years.

LOMNER PEDIGREE.—CORRECTION.

Since the previous pages have been printed, I have discovered an error in the descent of the Lumners of Mannington, which I am able to correct by the Records of the Court of Chancery in the S. P. O., as well as by other information recently obtained.—A. J.

In January, 1597, "JANE LOMNER, late wife of EDMUND LOMNER, late of Mannington in the co. of Norff. Esq. deceased . . , in his life time lawfully seized in his demesne as of the manor of Mannington in the co. of Norff. . . .," presents a petition to Sir Thos. Egerton, Lord Keeper, setting forth that her late husband EDMUND LUMNER had sold the manor of Mannington . . . to one JOHN POTTS, for the sum of three thousand pounds, at three several payments; the first payment to be made immediately after the death of MRS. DODGE, wife of JOHN DODGE, mother of the said EDMUND LOMNER; that she, the petitioner, was married to the said Edmund Lomner; that she had been "very well descended," and had also "received a good portion in marriage;" that in selling the manor no provision had been made for her, though her husband had intended to provide £100 a year for her out of the said manor in lieu of jointure, but that "POTTS did so cunningly contrive the said conveyance" that no such annuity was assured to her the petitioner, nor any provision was made for her out of the purchase-money ". . . if the said MRS. DODGE should fortune to survive" her husband EDMUND LOMNER, "as in truth she doth."

By the answer to this petition it appears that—

(1) EDMUND LOMNER had died before Michaelmas, 1588.

(2) At the time of his death he was greatly in debt, and forced to sell his estate.

(3) He had no brother or son "able to undertake the purchase."

(4) He had first offered the refusal of the manor to PETER HOUGHTON, Gent., who had married one of the daughters of MRS. DODGE, wife of JOHN DODGE, Esq., since deceased, and sister of the said ED. LOMNER.

(5) That HOUGHTON had declined the offer.

(6) That upon HOUGHTON'S refusal, ED. LOMNER had offered the estate to defendant JOHN POTTS, who had married another sister of ED. LOMNER'S.

VIII

(7) That since the death of said EDMUND LOMNER, "one ROBERT LOMNER, Gent.," had pretended to be entitled to the immediate remainder of the manor after the death of MRS. DODGE.

(8) That the said ROBERT LOMNER had lately married a daughter of one WILLIAM FRANKLIN, who, according to the allegation of defendant POTTS, was conspiring with the said ROBERT LOMNER to defraud said defendant of his rights in the manor, and that the cause was still pending in the Star Chamber touching the title set up by ROBERT LOMNER.

About a year after the filing of this petition MRS. CATHARINE DODGE died, and her nuncupative will was proved at Norwich by ANNE Lady Heydon, wife of Sir Christopher Heydon, on the 2nd Dec. 1598 (Cur. Ep. Adams, fo. 51). This will sets forth that the deceased CATHARINE DODGE of Mannington, co. Norff., widow, had frequently declared "that none of her children, but only her daughter the Lady ANNE HEYDON, wife of Sir CHRISTOPHER HEYDON, Knight, should have any pennyworth of her goods, but only her said daughter."

From these evidences the Pedigree at p. 35 may be corrected with certainty, and some additions made to it.

(1) It is certain that the EDW. LOMNER set down in the Visitation as son and heir of WILLIAM LOMNER of Sharrington ought to be described as EDWARD (or EDMUND) LOMNER, son and heir of Edward Lumner of Mannington.

(2) It is probable and almost certain that this EDWARD or EDMUND LUMNER's brother WILLIAM died unmarried, or at any rate s. p., before September, 1588.

(3) It is probable that WILLIAM LOMNER of Sharrington had a son ROBERT by his wife Anne Guibon, who is the ROBERT LOMNER mentioned in the Chancery Proceedings.

(4) And it is probable that the confusion in Blomefield, vol. vi. p. 464, may be explained by allowing that CATHARINE, widow of EDWARD LOMNER who died in August, 1558, had by JOHN DODGE, Esq., a daughter ANNE, who married (1) JOHN POTTS and (2) Sir CHRISTOPHER HEYDON; and another daughter MARY, who married (1) Peter Houghton, and (2) Sir Thomas Vavasour.

Lastly, in the Deposition Book for the years 1550-1551 in Episcopal Registry at Norwich there is further evidence, of a painful character, of the blight that seems to have fallen upon this family. EDMUND LUMNER of Mannington, Esq., "ætat 57 et amplius," gives evidence concerning ELEANOR LUMNER, mother of MARGARET LUMNER and of JOHN LUMNER, who are described as living at Sharrington. He says that "the father of the said MARGARET died a poor man . . . . and that his goods were not able to pay his debts." Further, it appears by the evidence given that this MARGARET LUMNER had a child by one NICHOLAS PAINTER, who afterwards deserted her, and married MARY DOCKING at the church of the Hospital of St. Giles in Norwich.

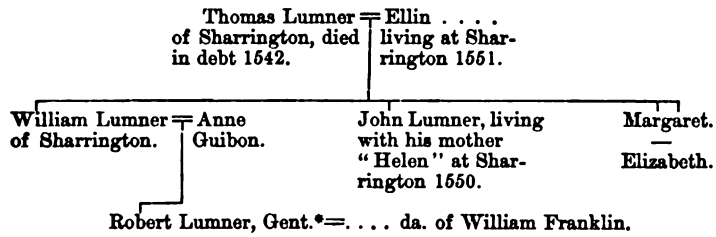
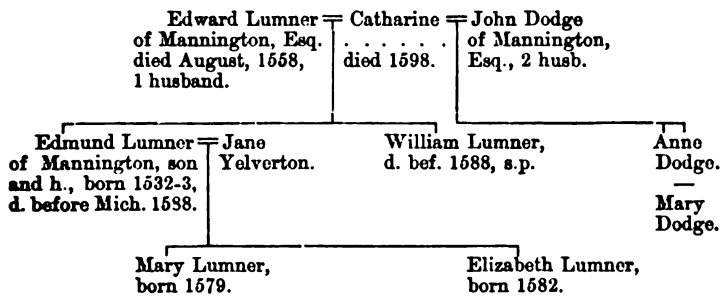
By the help of this additional evidence, the Pedigree of the Lumners of Sharrington and of Mannington, as given by the Visitation and other authorities at page 35, may be corrected, and will therefore stand as follows:—





* In the parish register of North Creake there are two entries of baptisms which appear to be those of the children of the Robert Lumner, Gent., mentioned in the "Chancery Proceedings:"—

NOTES FROM BLICKLING REGISTER BOOKS.

1616, Nov. Sir Henry Hobert, Knt. and Baronet, Ld. Ch. J. of the C. Pl., bought the Manor of Blickling of Sir Edward Clere, s. and h. to Sir Edward Clere, deceased, his stepmother Dame Agnes Clere, the widow dowager then living, whom the Lord Hobart compounded for 400£ a yeare during her natural life. The sale was made in London.

1671, May. King Charles 2nd, with Queene Katherine, James Duke of York, the Dukes of Monmouth, Richmond, and Buckingham, with divers Lords, arrived at the Lord Hobart's, at Blickling Hall. The King, Queen, and the Dukes being entertained in the Great Dining Room, the others in the Great Parlour, from whence they went, the Queene to Norwich, the King to Oxnead, &c.

1756, Oct. The Rt. Hon. John, Earl of Buckinghamshire, Captn. of the Band of Gentlemen Pensioners, Lord Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum of the co. of Norfolk and city of Norwich, Vice-Admiral of the co. of Norfolk,

From Burke's Commoners, [Seymour of Castletown].

A.D. 1514. Sir James Hobart, Knight. [Escheator's Inq., 6 Hen. VIII., No. 2.]

Norfolk. By an Inquisition taken at Long Stratton, co. Norfolk, 21 October, 6 Henry VIII. (1514), after the death of Margaret Beaupré (who died 10 February, 1513-14), wife of Nicholas Beaupré (who died 20 February, 1513-14), it is found (inter alia) that John Doreward of Great Yeldham, co. Essex, Esq., by his will gave to Margery his wife the manor of Southacre, co. Norfolk, and the advowson of the church of Southacre for her life, with remainder to the heirs of the body of his mother. By virtue whereof Margery was and is seised of the same, and she took to husband James Hobart, Knt.; and the said James and Margery are now seised of the said manor and advowson in right of Margery.

A.D. 1515. Sir Thomas Hubbert, Knt. [Chanc. Inq., 7 Henry VIII., No. 46.]

Co. Suffolk. Inquisition taken at Ipswich 12 Nov., 7 Henry VIII., (1515) after the death of Thomas Hubbert, Knight. Said Thomas Hubbert and others were jointly seised to the use of the said Thomas Hubbert and his heirs of the manor of Overbury Hall in Leyham, and of all the lands, &c., which Thomas Ormond, Knt., Earl Ormond, deceased, had. By his testament Thos. Hubbert devised the manor aforesaid to Elizabeth his wife for her life, and to perform his last will, viz.: To pay yearly to Dame Margerie Hubbert, wife of Sir James Hubbert, for term of her life, 20 marks, and also to pay to Wm. Faryngton, chaplain (or in case of his death to another priest), to celebrate for his (said Thos. Hubbert's) soul in the parish Church of Leyham and Chapel of Overbury, for twenty years, nine marks yearly. After the decease of said Elizabeth the manor to remain to Dorothy, daughter of Thos. Hubbert and Elizabeth, and heirs of her body; in default, to Alice, daughter of said Thomas and Elizabeth, and heirs of her body; in default, to Nicholas Hubbert, brother of said Thomas, and issue male; in default, to Thomas Baldry of London, mercer, on condition and to the intent that 500 marks be paid, at 100 marks a year, for five years, for the repair of the ways round Leyham aforesaid, Hadleygh, and Illymonacorum,* in relieving the poor, and in marrying poor young girls, and other works of piety and charity, in the towns aforesaid, to be done for the safety of the soul of the said Thomas Hubbert. He died 27 August last (1515), and Alice (aged twelve) and Dorothy (aged seven) are his daughters and heirs.

A.D. 1539. Sir Walter Hobart, Knight. [Chanc. Inq., 30 Henry VIII., No. 42.]

Co. Norfolk. Inquisition taken at Norwich 30 March, 30 Henry VIII. (1539), after the death of Walter Hobart, Knt. One Wm. Stephyns, clerk, was seised in fee of the manors of Halys-halle in Loddon, Banyards in Chetgrave, &c., &c., and by charter dated 12 Sept., 29 Henry VIII. (1537), granted to said Walter all the said manors, &c., to hold to him (Walter) and his assigns for term of his life; after his decease remainder to Henry Hobart, Esq., son and heir apparent of said Walter and heirs of his body; in default, remainder to the right heirs of the said Henry for ever. Said Walter was seised thereof and died 27 September, 30 Henry VIII. (1538), after whose death said Henry entered, and was and is seised in fee tail. Said Henry at the time of the death of Walter was aged thirty, &c.

A.D. 1553. Lady Anne Hobart, widow. [Chanc. Inq., 1 Mary, No. 89.]

Co. Norfolk. Inquisition at Norwich in the Sherhowse, (blank) September, 1 Mary (1553), after the death of Lady Anne Hobart, widow, late wife of Walter Hobart, Knt., deceased. Long before the death of the said Anne, the said Walter Hobart, Knt., was seised in fee of the manors of Hovells and Dagneis, with appurtenances in Northwold, &c.; and he, by the name of Walter Hobart, Esq., gave the said manors, &c., to Robert Ratclyffe, Knt., Lord Fitzwater, and others, to hold to them and to their assigns to the use of said Walter and Anne, then his wife, one of the sisters of said Lord Fitzwater, and their issue male; in default, to the use of said Walter Hobart and his heirs for ever, as by a charter dated 24 August, 9 Henry VIII. (1517). Walter died and Anne survived. Afterwards Anne died, and the reversion in tail of the said manor descended to Owin* Hobart, cousin and heir of the said Walter, begotten of the body of the said Anne, viz., son of James Hobart, Esq., son of said Walter and Anne. The reversion in fee for default of such issue descended to Henry Hobart, Esq., son and heir of Walter. Long before the death of said Anne, one James Hobart, Knt., and Robt. Sowthwell, Knt., were seised in fee of the manors of Morley and Depeham in said county, &c., and by their charter confirmed the same to Edward, Duke of Buckingham, and others, to the use of the said Walter, son and heir of said James and said Anne, then his wife, and their issue male; in default, to the use of the said James, his heirs, &c. Owin Hobart is aged sixteen years at this date, and ward of the said Henry. The said Henry is now aged fifty. Said Owin is cousin and heir of said Anne, viz., son of James, son of said Lady Anne, &c.

wife, then to the right heirs of the said Henry,—in the manor of West Somerton, co. Norfolk, and rectory of West Somerton, with tithes and advowson of the vicarage, by purchase of Christopher Heydon, Esq., and his wife, by indenture dated 24 February, 33 Eliz. (1590-1.) [Several other manors.] Fine levied in Octave of Purif. B. V. M., 19 James (Feb., 1621-2), between John, Earl of Bridgewater, plaintiff, and the said Henry Hobart and Dorothy his wife, John Hobart, son and heir of said Henry Hobart, John Gooch, Richard Glover, and John Plumstead, deforciants; which fine was levied to the uses limited in a certain indenture dated 20 January, 19 James (1621-2), as to some manors, to the use of the said Henry Hobart and his heirs, until a marriage between said John Hobart and Lady Frances Egerton, daughter of the said Earl of Bridgewater, should be solemnized; and after to the use of the said Henry Hobart for the lives of the said Henry and John, and after the decease of such one of them as should first chance to die, to the use of the said Lady Frances; and after her decease to the use of which of the two, the said Henry and John, should be living, for life; and after his decease, as to the manors of West Somerton, &c., to the use of the said John Hobart and heirs male of his body lawfully begotten; for default, to the use of Miles Hobart, second son of said Henry, and heirs male of his body, with such remainders and such estate to Nathaniel, James, Robert, Edward, now deceased, and Henry Hobart, sons of the said Henry (in Commission named) successively; and for default, to the use of the heirs male of the body of the said Henry (in Commission named); and for default, to the use of the right heirs of the said Robert Hobart, Edward Hobart, and Henry Hobart the son for ever. And as to the manor of Langley, &c., to the use of the first-begotten son of the said John Hobart and heirs male of his body, with such remainders and such estate to second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, and every other son of the said John Hobart successively and in order, one after the other; and for default, to the use of such woman as at the time of the death of the said John Hobart shall be his wife and shall have issue or issues in her womb of the body of the said John Hobart begotten, until such issue or issues shall be born and such woman shall die. And if such after-born issue be a son or sons, then to the use of the heirs male of the body of the said John Hobart issuing; and for default of such issue or woman, and after other determination of the estates aforesaid, then remainder to the said Miles, Nathaniel, James, Thomas, Robert, Edward, and Henry, sons of the said Henry in Commission named, their sons and wives successively and respectively, in manner as before to the sons of John Hobart and their wives; after, to the issue male of the said Henry in Commission; and for default, to the right heirs of Robert Hobart, Edward Hobart, and Henry Hobart the son, for ever. And as to other lands, &c., to the use—after the decease of the said Henry, if Dorothy, daughter of the said John Hobart by Lady Philippa, late his wife and daughter of Robert then Earl of Leicester, survive—of Thomas Hobart, Knt., and others, on trust to secure the payment of £2,000 to Dorothy, daughter of John Hobart, when she should complete her age of seventeen years, or within six months after, and after the payment of the said sum to Dorothy, or after her death before such age, for the sole advantage of said John Hobart for term of his life; and after, to the use of the wife and daughters of John Hobart and heirs male of their bodies, and afterwards to Miles, Nathaniel, James, Thomas Hobart, Robert Hobart, Edward and Henry the son, and the wives and daughters of every one of them, and the heirs male of the body of the same sons, and heirs male of the body of the said Henry Hobart in Commission, and the right heirs of the said Robert Hobart, Edward Hobart, and Henry Hobart the son, in manner as before respectively mentioned and limited as to the manor of Langley, as by the said indenture (shewn to the jurors) doth appear. Afterwards, in the lifetime of the said Henry Hobart, the said John Hobart took to wife the said Lady Frances; and the said Dorothy is yet living and aged seven years. [A mass of particulars passed over.]

A fine levied in Trinity Term, 18 Jas. (3 July, 1620) to the use of Henry Hobart (in Commission) for life; after to the use of the said John Hobart and heirs male of the body of the said Lady Philippa then his wife (which said Lady Philippa died without male issue begotten on her by John Hobart); and for default, to the right heirs of the said Henry Hobart, as by the chirograph and an indenture dated 1 May, 18 Jas. (1620) doth appear.

A fine levied in Easter Term, 21 James (1623) as to the manor of Intwood, &c., to the use of the said Henry Hobart and his heirs until a marriage between the said Miles Hobart and Lady Frances Bedingfeild should be solemnized; then to the use of the said Henry for life, after his decease to the use of Dorothy his wife in the name of part of her jointure; after, to the use of said Miles for life, then to firstborn son of Miles and heirs male of the body of such first son, with remainder to second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, and other sons of Miles, with further remainders to Nathaniel and James Hobart, &c. Afterwards, and before the death of the said Henry Hobart, the said Miles took to wife the said Frances Bedingfeild.

Henry Hobart, for the natural love which he bore towards his son Nathaniel, by indenture dated 1 April, 21 Jas. (1623) and duly inrolled in the Court of Common Pleas, agreed that he (Henry) and his heirs should be seised of the manor of Bloxham, co. Lincoln, &c., to the use of him (Henry) for life, and after to the use of Nathaniel and heirs of his body. (Other indentures to the use of his other sons, Thomas and Robert.) Mention of "Edward Hobart of Langley, Esq.," who deceased before the said Henry Hobart and before 22 June, 1 Charles (1625), the date of an indenture (also inrolled) by which Edward son of Henry was seised in fee-tail of the manor of Beeston alias Beeston Leames and sundry lands. Another indenture inrolled and dated 29 June, 1 Chas. (1625) for Henry the son, &c. The said Henry Hobart died 28 Dec., 1 Charles (1625) at Blickling; and John Hobart, Knt. and Bart., is his son and heir, and at the time of his father's death he was aged thirty years. Lady Frances, wife of John Hobart, is living; and Dorothy, widow of the said Henry Hobart, and the said Miles Hobart, Nathaniel Hobart, James Hobart, Thomas Hobart, Robert Hobart, and Henry Hobart, the sons, and the said Frances, wife of Miles, are yet living at Blickling aforesaid.

A.D. 1632. John Hobart, Esq. [Chanc. Inq. p. m., 9 Charles I., p. 1, No. 73.]

Co. Norfolk. Inquisition taken at Harleston, 8 October, 8 Chas. (1632.) John Hobart, Esq., long before his death was seised in fee of a capital messuage called Sendalls in Sall in co. Norfolk, with land, meadow, and pasture in Sall, Reepham, and Cardeston, with the same messuage used and occupied, amounting to 107 acres, and other lands. One Thomas, Lord Knyvett, Baron of Escrike, and Lady Elizabeth his wife, were seised in fee of the manor of Hawes alias Hawes Wood and Moorehall, &c., in co. Norfolk, and for a sum of £2000 paid sold the same 23 Nov., 9 James I. (1611) to the said John Hobart and John Hobart his son and their heirs for ever, as by the fine appears. John Hobart was also seised in fee of a messuage called Brushes, situate in Burgate, co. Suffolk, and land in Burgate, &c. So seised thereof, the said John Hobart, by good and sufficient conveyances in law, conveyed all and singular the aforesaid to his son John and Dorothy his (son) wife, and the heirs of their bodies. Afterwards, 18 September, 6 Chas. (1630) the said John Hobart made his testament and last will in writing, and devised land to one Miles Hobart his son for life, with remainder to first, second, &c., to tenth son and sons of the said Miles and their issue male; in default, to daughters of Miles and their issue. As to Sendalls, that Dorothy, then his wife, should have the use and occupation of the same for life; and after her decease, to his son John and his heirs for ever. Afterwards, viz., 14 October, 6 Chas. (1630) the said John Hobart died. John Hobart, son and heir, was at the time of his father's death aged twenty-nine years. Dorothy, wife of the said John deceased, the father, and Dorothy, wife of John Hobart the son, are yet living, &c.

A.D. 1633. Sir Miles Hobart, Knt. [Ex. 9 Chas. p. 1, No. 30.]

Co. Bucks. Inquisition taken 17 Sept., 9 Chas., after the death of Sir Miles Hobard, Knight, who was found seised of the manor of Harleford in Great Marlow, and by deed dated Oct., 5 Chas., he granted an annuity to Anthony Watson, clerk, and Elizabeth his wife of £11 for their lives. Sir Miles died at Harleford, 20 June, 8 Chas., and John Rous, clerk, son and heir of Anthony Rous, clerk, deceased, son and heir of Alice, wife of John Rous, and one of the daughters of William Hobard of Southwold, father of William Hobard of Norwich, father of Miles Hobard, citizen and clothworker of London, father of said Sir Miles Hobart, Knt., was at his death one of his coheirs, and was of the age of forty years. Wm. Hobard of Southwold by Margaret his wife had issue, besides Wm. Hobard of Norwich and said Alice, a daughter Dorothy, who was wife of Wm. Holbourne, and no other issue, and said Wm. and Dorothy had issue Wm. Holbourne their eldest son, who was heir of said Dorothy, and he had issue by Ann his wife an only daughter Margaret, now wife of Oliver Ridge, and no other issue. At the Admiralty Sessions, 34 Eliz., said Wm. Holbourne the son was convicted and attainted of divers piracies, robberies, and felonies, and on 19 Oct. in that year died without issue, except said Margaret Ridge, who was the other coheir of said Sir Miles Hobart, viz., daughter and heir of Wm. Holbourne, son and heir of Dorothy, wife of Wm. Holbourne, and the other daughter of Wm. Hobard of Southwold, &c., and was aged forty, but by reason of said conviction, &c., one moiety escheated to the Crown.

A.D. 1640. Miles Hobart, Esquire.* [Chanc. Inq. p. m., 16 Chas. I., p. 3, No. 126.]

Co. Norfolk. Inquisition taken at Thetford, co. Norfolk, 24 March, 15 Chas. (1639-40.) Long before the death of the said Miles Hobart, in the writ named, Henry Hobart, Knt. and Bart., Chief Justice of Common Pleas, and late father of the said Miles was seised in fee of the manor of Intwood, &c. Fine levied in Easter Term, 21 Jas. (1623) (here referred to) in contemplation of marriage between Miles Hobart and Frances, Lady Bedingfeild, and indenture tripartite dated 3 April, 21 Jas. (1623.) The marriage was held and solemnized. Afterwards the said Henry Hobart died in the lifetime of Miles, and Dorothy, widow of Henry, survived and is yet living. Frances, Lady Bedingfeild, died in the lifetime of Miles, and they had issue between them a firstborn son, John Hobart, and two daughters, Dorothy and Alice.

Indenture tripartite dated 2 July, 8 Chas. (1632) and made between the said Miles of the first part, John Hobart, Knt. and Bart., and William Paston, Esq., of the second part, and Elizabeth Hobart, second wife and now widow of Miles, of the third part, by the name of Elizabeth Moundeford, one of the daughters of Edmund Moundeford, Knt., deceased, of the third part, in consideration of marriage between the said Miles and Elizabeth, and for jointure of the said Elizabeth [quoted, in English, to the following effect.] It is agreed that if Miles Hobart die without issue male begotten of the body of the said Elizabeth, and have issue but one daughter living at the time of his death, then his heirs, executors, &c., shall pay to the said daughter £1000 at her age of twenty-one years, or at her marriage (which of them shall first happen) or at any other time. And if Miles shall die without issue male or female, and Elizabeth be "enseint" with a daughter by the said Miles at the time of his death, his heirs, executors, &c., shall pay to such afterborn daughter £1000 at her age of twenty-one, or marriage, or at any other time. If he die without issue male of the body of Elizabeth, and have two or more daughters on her body begotten at the time of his death, then £2000 to be equally divided between them at their ages of twenty-one, or marriage, or at any other time. Afterwards Miles took to wife the said Elizabeth. Afterwards the said Miles made his testament and last will in writing, dated 26 November now last past (1639.) [Here the will is quoted in the record.] I give to my daughter Dorothie and her heires—to my daughter Alice and her heires. If either died before the age of twenty-one or marriage, then the moiety which shall "accrew" shall be to the survivor, and the other moiety shall to my daughters Elisabeth and Abigail and the child or children wherewith my wife now goeth, and their heirs, to be equally divided at the age of twenty-one or marriage. My Lady Bedingfeild my late wife deceased. Wardship of son John to be granted † to my wife Elizabeth, Sir John Hobart, Knt. and Bart., my dear brother, Sir John Holland, Knt. and Bart., Sir Antony Irby, Knt., and Edward Mileham, Esq. Miles Hobart died 6 December last (1639), and John, his son and heir, the first-begotten son on the body of the said Frances his wife, deceased on 9 March last (1632-40), was aged twelve years. The said Elizabeth, late wife, is yet living. The said Miles and Elizabeth had issue, Miles, first-begotten son of the body of Elizabeth, and two daughters, Elizabeth and Abigail, who are all living. The said Elizabeth at the time of the death of Miles was pregnant. Dame Dorothy Hobart is yet living, &c.

A.D. 1643. James Hobart, Esquire. [Chanc. Inq. p. m., 19 Charles I., No. 19.]

Co. Norfolk. Inquisition taken at Swaffham in co. Norfolk, 2 March, 18 Charles (1642-3.) James Hobart, long before his death, was seised in fee of the rectory of Methwold, and tithes, &c., to the same belonging, with the advowson of the vicarage; also of a messuage or tenement called Banham Haugh, with 260 acres of land to the same tenement appertaining in Banham. James Hobart, so seised thereof, by his writing indented, bearing date 17 Nov., 16 Charles (1640), between the said James of one part, and Edmund Moundford of Feltwell, co. Norfolk, Knt., Robert de Grey of Merton in said county, Esq., and William Buckworth of North Pickenham in said county, Esq., of the other part, demised and let to farm to the said Edmund, Robert, and William, their executors, administrators, and assigns, the abovesaid messuage or tenement, with lands and the rectory aforesaid, for term of eighty years from Michaelmas last past (1640), if Catherine, then wife of said James Hobart, should so long live, yielding and paying to the said James, his heirs and assigns, the sum of five shillings (if demanded) at Michaelmas every year during the said term. Afterwards said James Hobart made and declared his testament and last will in writing, dated 27 January, 1641-2, by which he gave the said messuage and lands as follows:—to Henry Hobart, his second son, and to the heirs of his body lawfully begotten, "one moiety of all that my ffarme called Banham Haugh in Banham in the said county of Norffolke, and of all other the lands, tenemts., and hereditaments now or late in the tenure or occupac'on of Ralph Constable and William Atkins, or their assignes," and the other "moity" to James Hobart, his third son, and the heirs of his body; provided that none of his three sons nor any of their heirs should enter or have possession until the expiration of the lease above mentioned. The said James Hobart died 26 July last (1642), and John Hobart, his son and heir, at the date of this inquisition is aged twelve years and three months, or thereabouts.

It is difficult to determine if the following Wills, &c., relate to members of the Hobart family of Norfolk, Suffolk, and Essex, but a glance at the extracts from parish registers will show how many of the name are for want of sufficient proof left unaccounted for, and it is possible that some may have spread and taken root in adjoining counties. These references are therefore given to facilitate future investigation.

ADDITIONAL NOTES.

A pedigree of "Hubbard of Barleythorpe, Rutland," is given in vol. iii. of Dr. Howard's Miscellanea Genealogica, with the following:—

Arms.—Gules, on a bend sable three annulets or.

Crest.—A wolf's head erased.

The ancient family of Hobert was seated at Dennington in Hoxne Hundred, Suffolk, and there continued till John Hobert left a daughter and sole heir, married to Peter le Rous (temp. Edward III.) They bore arms—Ermine, 3 crescents argent on a bend cotised sable.—Sir Richard Gipps, Coles MSS., vol. xxviii.

Liber Thomæ Godsalve de Norwico olim de Lychfelde, sed nunc Petrus Hobard de Denyngton dominus hujus libri, 20 die August, 1567.—Note in a MSS. in the Library of C. C. C., Cambridge, No. 166.

Mr. Peter Hobart was born at or near Hingham in Norfolk about the latter end of 1604. In 1635 he went to New England, where he died 20 January, 1678.—Cotton Mather's History of New England, from Davy's Suffolk Pedigrees, pp. 153-5.

In the east window of Loddon church was the representation of Sir James Hobart and his lady, with the family arms on his surcoat, and the following inscription beneath :—

"Orate pro aia Jaci Hobat, milit et attornati dni regis, qui hanc ecclesiam a primis fundamentis condidit in tribus annis cum suis propriis bonis, anno regis Henrici septimi undecimo."

This painting was formerly in the possession of the Rev. Hugh James of Upwell, but is now the property of Mr. William Cann of Mendham.—Britton and Brayley's Norfolk (pub. 1810.)

A passport granted to Sir John Hobart by the Parliament for a journey into Norfolk :—" Whereas Sir John Hobart of Blickling, Knight and Baronet, one of the Deputy-Lieutenants appointed by the House of Commons, is known to be a man well affected to his Majesty and to the Parliament, and is now travelling into Norfolk, with five cases of pistols, three carbines, and two little short pieces of brass ; these are to require all Sheriffs, Mayors, and constables, and other his Majesty's subjects and officers whatsoever, to permit and suffer him to pass quietly and freely with the arms above mentioned, without any lett or molestation."—R. H. Mason's History of Norfolk, part ii. p. 287.

In the court-roll of the manor of Hendon, co. Middlesex, it is stated that Samuel Turner, Esq., was lord, and Edward Hobart, Esq., steward of the manor, 1686.

Edward Hubbard, master of Catharine Hall, died 22 December, 1741, and was buried in Norwich Cathedral. His brother Henry Hubbard, B.D. of Emmanuel College, Cambridge, died 23 January, 1778.—Ackermann's History of Cambridge.

The motto of Sir Henry Hobart, Bart., Lord Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, was "non moriar sed vivam."—Collins' Peerage, 1756.

" 77. The age of Sir John Hobart, Knt. and Bart., should have been printed 54, not 37. Collins, in his Peerage for 1756, states that Sir John Hobart was born in Norwich 19 April, 1593, and was knighted 23 July, 1603. This date of knighthood is an error, and evidently refers to that of Sir John Hobart, Knt., fourth son of James Hobart of Hales Hall, Esq.—W. E. G. L. B.

THE GROVE, WATFORD.

This domain was the antient seat of the family of Heydon, of whom John Heydon died possessed of it on the 1st of March, 1408, leaving William his son and heir. William Heydon (son of William) succeeded, and by inquisition taken at Hatfield 21 July, anno 38 Henry VIII. after the death of the said William (the son) it was found that he made his will on the 8th of May, anno 37 Henry VIII., and afterwards died seised of this Manor of Grove in Watford, held of the King as of his Manor of Cashiobury, by fealty, suit of court, and an annual rent of 37*s.* and 2*d.* ; and that Henry Heydon was the eldest son and heir of the said William (the son), and then of the age of 38 years.

The successor of Henry Heydon, Esq., was Francis Heydon, Esq., his son and heir, Sheriff of Hertfordshire anno 25 Elizabeth.

"Among the Parkhurst correspondence at Cambridge, Ee. II. 34, there are a great many letters in a cause which came before his Lordship as Bishop of Norwich, and which he appears to me to have done his best to adjudicate upon unfairly. Thomas de Grey, a boy of seven at his father's death, son of Thomas de Grey of Merton, by Anne, dau. of Henry Everard of Linstead, co. Suffolk, was heir to the Merton estate, by the death of his father in 1562. The lad became the ward of his father's second wife Temperance, dau. of Sir Wymonde Carew of Anthony, co. Cornwall, who married secondly Sir Christopher Heydon of Baconsthorpe. He was very delicate, and fearing he might slip through their hands, the Heydons married him when he was ten years old or thereabouts to Elizabeth Heydon, who, I presume, was a daughter of Sir Christopher by a former marriage. The lady was, I think, sixteen. The child died at Baconsthorpe (where he was married) in 1566, and the young widow was subsequently married to Nicholas Mynne, "Esqr.," evidently a great favourite of the Bishop's, who thereupon sued for the widow's dower. Robert de Grey resisted the demand, pleading the nullity of the marriage. The bishop wrote discreditable letters to his chancellor and others on the subject, they for the most part giving it as their opinion that the marriage was null and that Mynne had not a leg to stand on. Nicholas Mynne, Esq., was of Little Walsingham, who belonged to a malignant family who christened their sons Nicholas again and again with no other object than to puzzle genealogists. He was quite a young man in 1571, and was mixing with the first people in the county at that time."—A. J.

Sir John Heydon and Sir Christopher Heydon were brothers. Sir Xpher. was one of the justices appointed to try the rebels. His commission dated 2 May, 1 Queen Mary, 1554.

Sir John Heydon and Sir Robert Mansfield quarrelled in the year 1600.

Notes.—W. E. G. L. B.

Sir John and Sir Christopher Heydon were both seized by Richard Jenkinson, Esq., Hight Sheriff of Norfolk, with their houses, goods, and chattels, for being in open rebellion against Queen Elizabeth A.D. 1600, as assistants to the Earl of Essex. Sir Xpher. lived at Mannington and had a mansion-house at Baconsthorpe. The Lady Heydon, the younger, of Mannington, then great with child and in great distress. Their offence committed 8 Feb., 1600.—Le Neve's MS.

An oblong painting, on panel, of an Italian chateau with figures in the foreground, is now (1884) in the possession of Colonel Bulwer of Heydon Hall, and said to have come from Saxlingham Hall, one of the seats of the Heydon family.

The will of Thomas Darcy, dated Oct. 27th, 1557, to some extent clears up the difficulty about the asserted marriage of Robert Bedingfield with Elizabeth, dau. of Sir John Heydon, referred to in the note, vol. 1, page 163, Visitation of Norfolk. Elizabeth Darcy, dau. of Sir John Heydon, proved her husband's will and died about a year after his death, apparently leaving no will. But Robert Bedingfield, as supervisor of Thomas Darcy's will, proved it again, 1558.

The Sir Robert Mansfield who fought the duel with Sir John Heydon, 1600, was probably the same Sir Robert who married Anne, widow of Sir Francis Windham, Knt., one of the Justices of the Common Pleas, and daughter of Sir Nicholas Bacon of Redgrave, Lord Keeper, by Jane, daughter of Wm. Ferneley of London.

In the Lushington Room at the Canterbury Museum is a case containing the left hand of Sir John Heydon, Knt., and with it the MS. describing the remarkable duel which took place between him and Sir Robert Mansfield near Norwich, in the year 1600. The following account of this duel is taken from the description given in the catalogue of the museum at Canterbury, which was prepared by John Brent, Esq., F.S.A., 1875.

The severed hand of Sir John Heydon is exhibited in the Museum at Canterbury, and its history is somewhat curious. It is accompanied by a manuscript account of a duel which took place near Norwich, in January, 1600. The manuscript is thus headed:—"The hand of Sir John Heydon, Knight, who in the year 1600 fought a duell wth Sr Robert Mansfield, Knight, near Norwich city, wch Sir John dyed of ye wounds he reed in the said duel, (as I'm infor'd). I had this hand from Mrs. Lomax,† whose mother was nearly related to the Heydons."

The manuscript we should judge was not contemporaneous, nor nearly so, with the event it describes, but rather appears to be in the orthography and writing of the commencement of the 18th century, although it may be earlier. The following "N.B." gives its own date:—"The document, together with the hand of Sir John Heydon, were given to me by Charles Viscount Maynard. A.D. 1822.—Danl. Jarvis."

Mr. Jarvis was a doctor of medicine, resident at Margate, who presented the hand and the accompanying MS. to the Museum at Canterbury, probably at the time of the date of the indorsement, or soon afterwards. The Mrs. Lomax alluded to as above, was a direct lineal descendant of Mirabel, the daughter of Sir John Heydon.

The relic we have alluded to is the left hand, carefully dried. It has been severed from the wrist about an inch below the little finger—transversely

* Another account says November, 1599.

† The late Lord Strangford had a MS. volume in his possession which, alluding to the severed hand of Sir John Heydon, stated it was formerly in the possession of Thomas Martin of Palgrave, the author of the History of Thetford. This must have been after it left the custody of the Lomaxes, and before it came into the possession of Lord Maynard. Martin died in 1772, shortly after which the collections were dispersed.

cutting the wrist bones, which have fallen out of the socket. Sir John, in spite of the averment of the MS., did not die of this wound, but survived it some years, to be known hereafter as "Heydon with one hand."

We have no account of the cause of this duel, although the MS. minutely describes the affair itself, and certain proceedings which were attendant upon it. The mutilated hand, which is the left, looks as if injured by a sabre blow. This we know could not have been the case, as the combatants fought with their rapiers. More probably it was amputated by a surgeon. The excision is through the metacarpus of the little finger, down through the trapezoid and trapezium bones of the wrist below the third finger.

The duel was fought near Norwich. The combatants rode some little way towards the scene of action, accompanied by two friends, but they quickly parted company from their seconds, if such they might be called, and rode off, Sir John Heydon in advance, he being constrained to do so by Sir Robert Mansfield, who suspected or insinuated a suspicion of treachery from the very beginning. And here it is proper to remark, that the MS. account of this duel is entirely an ex parte statement of the latter knight. At length, upon a hill between two highways, they dismounted and fought. There appear to have been no witnesses present, although certain evidence of two labouring men is subjoined, which confirms parts only of the strange incidents connected with this duel.

To return, however, to Sir John Heydon and Sir Robert Mansfield. The only description of the duel which we have is from the MS. in the Canterbury Museum, placed alongside of the amputated hand.

Report of Sir Robert Mansfield.

"Sir Edwyn Ryche carried me without Ber Street Gate; my dere nephew Knyvett brought Sir John Heydon thither, whereuppon we rid away towards Mr. Doyley's, and in a close uppon this syde the water, I entreated Sir Edward Ryche to go to my nephew Knyvett to the end we might be dismissed; whereuppon we parted, and they both lighted and searched us, and measured our rapiers, and found Sir John Heydon's longer than myn, by a full ynche; then I desired Sir Edwyn Ryche to see if his rapier would fytt the other, and it would, but he would not let me have it. Then I saide I would fyght with my owne; my nephew Knyvett refused it absolutelie; and thereuppon, after many persuasions that I would suffer Sir John's rapier to go back to be shortened, I absolutelie refused, and swore that they both should not kepe me from ending the difference at that tyme with my owne sworde; whereupon we mounted on horseback, and I led the waie, for so Sir John would have it. By and by, my nephew Knyvett called and tould me we were to ryde to Rackeywards, as I understood it, but being ignorant of the waie I was to be directed by Sir John Heydon, who ledd me another waie, and refused to fyght in a narrow place that we did ryde through, which had a depe dyke on the one syde and ploughed lands on the other syde. And then he made me take a waie to the topp of a hill between two great high waies, where he would have nedes me leight, for he would ryde no further, although he sawe companye rydeing on both syds. When I sawe no remedie, I fitted myself thereunto, and cam upp to him, and in the verie first thrust he hurte me in the breste, which I followed and hurte him in twoe places, whereof one was in the theigh, whereupon he turned his back towards me, and following of him he stumbled, and after I did judge he would falle I strooke him a blowe on the face, wherewith he fell upon his hands and knees, and he cryed, 'That I would not kyll him baselie on the grounde, for he would make me any satisfaction I would demand,' which I confesse held me from doinge him any further hurte untill he did rise; and when he was upp, without speaking any worde he ran me into the brest againe, and my thruste myst him, as I thought, by his coming home to me. Then we fell to stabbes with our daggers, and at his goinge out I strooke him upon the head with my sworde, and another blowe at his face, which made him loose his dagger, which instantlie he recovered; afterwards I charged to halfe sword, and then he cryed to me to hould my hands, for he would make me any satisfaction; wherewith I stepped back, and soddenlie, before there passed any wordes, he thrust and hitt withall, came to stabbes with his dagger, and hurte me in the right arm two stabbs, whereupon I never left him, untill he cryed the third tyme to hould my hand, saiing againe he would make me any satisfaction, whereunto I answered, I would never trust a treacherous villaine the third tyme, unless he would laie downe his rapier and dagger, which att the first in valiant terms he denied, untill he sawe me presse him so hotlie, he said 'if I would not kyll him he would laie down his rapier and dagger, and make me whatever satisfaction I would,' which I promised by oaths to performe, though he in the interim thrust his rapier in the grounde to breake it, but perceiving it would not breake, he laid his rapier and dagger crosse waies close by his fete, and stepped back as I willed him. Then I tooke upp his rapier and dagger, and carried them to the place where I left my purse and inkhorne, and drewe out my articles from my breste, where I carried them, and brought them with ink and penn to him to signe, who seeing me come towards him, fell downe, and tould me I had killed him, and he was not able to wryte. Then I did protest to kill him, which I would have done if he had not signed the articles, and thereupon he sett his hand, and tould me he could wryte no better, and so I putt upp the articles in my pockett, and at his request I cast my cloak uppon him, and goeing towards my horse, with his rapier and dagger I espied twoe men coming verie nere, and it made me call them for wytness, and then I asked Sir John whether he had signed this paper, which I drewe forth out of my pockett, who would make me no other answer but that he hoped there was nothing but the articles, and willed me to remember he hadd not then redd them. Then, finding myself very ill, and hadd no use att all of my ryght arme, verie little of the other, and one of my wounds to rattell, I tooke both rapier and dagger, and left my ruffe, my spurres, and the scabberd of my dagger, behind me; and being mounted, I caused one of the poore men to cast Sir John's cloak about me, and so I cam galloping to my house, where I found Sir John Townsend, with many other gentlemen of worth, who can wytness of the unbuttoning and unripping of my doublett, and striping of myself to be laide in bedd, in what manner and case I leave to their reports, and myself to justifie the truthe thereof, further, then by reputation or discreation, I shall be tyed within the eares of the least sence be contraried (sic) nor with any honestie by Sir John Heydon himself, unto whome I gave his life twice at that tyme—once, to my own endangering of my life by suffering hym to rise, and the second tyme, when he yielding me his rapier and dagger, whereof the world may be satisfied by my carrieing it awaie, and keeping it. In testimonie hereof I sett my hand.

"ROBERT MANSFIELD."

Indorsed—"To my very lovinge friend,
Mr. George Birchn, Norwich."

The MS., besides the above document, contains the letters of Sir Bassingbourne Gaudy and Mr. Hungate, to Lord Thomas Howard and the Earl of Nottingham, relative to the duel, and the depositions of the two husbandmen, who were examined in the matter. Another letter is from Sir Bassingbourne Gaudy to the Lord Chief Justice Popham, and the reply of the Lord Chief Justice.

Rumours of foul play, reflecting strongly on Sir Robert Mansfield, had become prevalent, and hence the comments and inquiries. Sir John Heydon, though grievously wounded, survived the encounter. He was alive in 1614, and bore the soubriquet of "Heydon with one hand," for in that year, at the marriage of Jane Drummond, one of the Maids of Honour to the Queen of James I., he appears to have had a quarrel with the Earl of Essex, which was to be decided "presently," but whilst Heydon went to fetch his sword, Essex was restrained by the Archbishop of Canterbury. The Queen, affronted at this unseemly "brabble" at her feast, and the fault being laid upon Heydon, he was temporarily confined in the Fleet Prison. The occasion, as the narrative relates, was "dismal to him and his family," for a Decree in Chancery was issued that day that the Sheriff and Justices of Norfolk should raise the county, and thrust his father out of all the possessions which he held.

The above documents are imperfect in some degree. The letters to the Lord Thomas Howard and to the Earl of Nottingham are unsigned, and no allusion is made in the other portion of the MS. to the death of Sir John Heydon. The affair of the duel is strange enough, when we consider the circumstances attending it, and even in those days, when every gentleman wore his rapier by his side, and personal encounters were of common occurrence, it awakened inquiry and comment. Sir Robert Mansfield appears to have set out with his opponent, prepared for every contingency;—he had his articles as he called them, carefully placed within his vest, in a most business-like manner, as if certain of the issue of the combat; he carried his pen and his inkhorn, like a scrivener of the day; his sword, indeed, was an inch shorter than his opponent's, but his attendant knight, if not his second, refused to accommodate him, according to his account, with the temporary loan of his own sword, that he might fight on even terms. In his account, he insinuates suspicion against his opponent from the very beginning, although we are unable to conclude how Sir John Heydon's refusal to fight "in a narrow place," or his ultimate determination to bring the affair to an issue "on the top of a hill between two great high waies," could be more prejudicial to one party than to another. Sir Robert Mansfield, according to the deposition of one of the husbandmen, Thomas Yarham, exclaimed, "Old father, search me," and unbuttoned his doublet, but Sir Robert had nothing on his breast but the doublet, his waistcoat, and a shirt. The said husbandman did not see Sir Robert Mansfield put any pen into Sir John Heydon's hand, but he saw a very short pen lie on the ground hard by. The other husbandman, Henry Hardyn of Norwich, confirms this account. He saw Sir Robert Mansfield going towards Sir John Heydon, "with a written paper in his hand without either pen or ink," and he heard Sir John reply, when requested to set his hand to the same, "that he could not, nor would not," and that Sir Robert Mansfield made no answer. Also that Sir Robert Mansfield, in spite of his saying "he was very ill, had no use at all of his right arm, and very little of the other," as per statement, "mounted his horse, with all the weapons he carried out of the field, without any help." Sir Robert having taken Sir John's cloak, left him his own; no attempt, however, seems to have been made by any of the parties present to staunch the blood from Sir John Heydon's wounds, or otherwise assist him. He was lifted up into a cart, and carried home some half-an-hour after Sir Robert Mansfield had quitted the field.

The letters of Sir Bassingbourne Gaudy and Mr Hungate relate chiefly to the facts that no force or practyse was used to draw the husbandmen to Sir Robert Mansfield's house," and that their "speeches" were set down by a public notary; and that they all "decry or disdain to be instruments of any such base practyses as he and we are most unjustly charged withall, who would more willingly quench the fire already kindled, than be procurers of any further mischiefs."

The Lord Chief Justice's letter is written in a mild and conciliatory spirit, although he could not refrain from rebuking "such reports as had grown from Sir Robert Mansfield, as in terming Sir Christopher Heydon and his brother 'base knaves,' with many unbecoming terms to be given by one gentleman to another."

Nothing further appears to have arisen out of this affair, and Sir Robert Mansfield, or Mansel, seems in the reign of King James to have risen in favour with the Administration, and to have held the important office of Treasurer to the Navy.

We may note a curious expression in Sir Robert Mansfield's narrative. He speaks of finding "one of his wounds to rattell." We can guess the meaning, but have been unable to find in any dictionary any appropriate signification beyond the meaning "to make a noise"—i.e., "to be troublesome."

In the fight, Sir John Heydon appears at one time to have attacked his opponent with his sword in one hand and his dagger in the other, Sir Robert refusing to trust him unless "he laid down his rapier and dagger."

NOTE.—Another account of this mysterious duel is given in the Gentleman's Magazine for May, 1853, page 481; and an extended memoir of Sir Robert Mansfield is to be found in Mansell's History of the Family of Maunsell.—London, 1850. Sir Robert Mansel was the third son of Sir Edward Mansel, Knt., by his wife Lady Jane Somerset, daughter of Henry, Earl of Worcester. Sir Robert was knighted by the Earl of Essex, 1596, at the capture of Cadiz, was afterwards made Vice-Admiral of the Fleet by King James I., continued in that post by Charles I., and lived to a great age.

"Sir John Heydon, Knt., married . . . . 4th daughter of Sir Gilbert Gerrard, Bart., by Mary, sixth dau. of Sir Francis Barrington, Knt. and Bart."—Lipscombe's Hist. of Bucks.

In the Supplement to the Record of the House of Gournay there appear several letters from the Heydons and others addressed to Sir Bassingbourne Gawdy, Knt., of West Harling, during the period he was three times Sheriff of Norfolk, viz., 1578, 1593, 1602. Among these letters are the following:—

Sr. I am sorry my unhappie estate giveth me occasion to becum a suter unto you in a matter of this natur, but I have no other way to prevent executions that are now lykly to cum out against Mr. Thetford as my suerty, but by your frendly forbaring to execute the same till the next terme, not doubtinge in ye meane tyme but to satisfie ye parties them selves. If I could have sould land I wold not have suffred matters to growe to this extremitye, and before the tyme prefixed I assure you uppon my honest faythe to provide sum way for ther contentment, and in the meane tyme I will not desire your under sherifes losse, but will most thankfully consider him for his fes, which, though it will be a charge, yet by this favor I shall prevent much infamie, grefe, and other inconveniences yt will happen if my suertyes shold be molested and empeached by my debt. I most ernestly pray you yt you will instantly give your ordre by lettre or otherwise to your onder sheriffe for ye satisfyinge of this my request, giving him contentment to ye uttermost of his due, wherby as I shall acknowledge my self infinitly pleasured so I pray you persuade yourself, you shall ever fynd me accordingly redy to deserve your

Sr. With rememberaunce of my dewtie, this be to ascertayne you that after your coming from Norwich yesterdaye the chalenge between Sr. Robert Mansfylde and Sr. John Heydon took effecte. The first payd for it but bled onlye, but Sr. John Heydon before this is thought to be deade. This nuse we had from one that cam from Norwh. yesterdaye, whoe upon the waye mette wth. passengers that cam to the ende of the fraye, and reporteth thus. They went about twelve of the clocke from Norwch. to fight about half a myle distant from Herford wthout frende of eyther syde. In the fight passengers cam bye and before their neere approach they did see Sr. John Heydon falle; he is hurte in many places, but the deadlye wounde is by a thruste in at his throte and out at the toppe of his heade. Sr. Robert went to Norwich with the armes of the other who leye upon the grownde till the foresaid passengers cam to him, but could neyther stande nor speake, and they conveyed him to a house next to the place, but further he reporte not. Thus much I thought to certifie you, yf it be newse it shall be wellcome, yf not I desyre you to continewe good construction of mee. I am and will be redeye to doe any s'vice for the discharge of my dewtie, or that might contente your worship.

A shield of the arms and crest of Heydon is seen on the background, and beneath:—"Vera et Viva Effigies Johannis Heydon Equitis φιλονομεῦ (sic) Nat. 1629, Dic. Sept. 10. The marriage of Thomas de Grey with Elizabeth Heydon, mentioned by Dr. Jessopp at page 212 in the contribution from the Parkhurst Correspondence at Cambridge, is explained in the following pedigree of "the Drury family," which shows that Thomas de Grey was married, not to Elizabeth Heydon, but to Elizabeth, daughter of Robert and Audrey Drury, and niece of Anne, the first wife of Sir Christopher Heydon of Baconsthorpe. She afterwards married Nicholas Mynne of Walsingham. Little or nothing is known of this Nicholas Mynne, beyond that in the Visitation of the County of Somerset, 1623, he is said to have been the son of Robert Mynne by a daughter of Lord Rich, and the extract from the Parish Register of Rushford, given at page 203, in all probability refers to him. The Mynne Pedigree at present is a "tangled skein." The similarity of Christian names and the absence of all descriptive distinctions have puzzled many genealogists. Dr. Jessopp calls them on this account "a malignant family," and that able historian and genealogist, the late Mr. G. A. Carthew, F.S.A., in his History of the Hundred of Launditch, confesses his inability to draw out a connected pedigree of this family in spite of the numerous quotations from wills and parish registers given in his work.—W. From Le Neve's MSS.—W. E. G. L. B.

There were some of this name living at Dunton cum Doughton before and after 1 Edw. IV., and appear as witnesses to deeds of land in that town. The original deed is in the possession of Sir Xpher Calthorpe. Edmund Dynne (also party to a deed dated 8 Edw. IV.), John Dynne, Walter Dynne of Dunton, and Thomas Dynne mentioned in a deed of lands in Dunton 12 Hen. VI.

King Henry VIII., by a patent dated 17 July, 10 Henry VIII., granted the wardship of Robert, son and heir of Henry Dynne, and his marriage to Sir John Heydon, Knt.

24 Hen. VIII. Sir Henry Fermor was High Sheriff of Norf., and made his will 8 April in that year, by which he settled an annuity of 40 marks on Dame Winefred h. w., and her lodging in the east end of his house, during widowhood, with £20 toward hanginge the same; a bason and ewer of silver, a nest of gilt goblets, a dozen silver spoons, 2 goblets, 2 salts, with meat and drink for herself, two maids, and a man, at charge of his son William. His first wife was Margaret, relict of John Wode, Esq., by whom he had two sons and two daughters. Lady Winefrede remarried, 26 Hen. VIII., Sir John Tendal of Hockwold, Norf.

Sir John Tyndall of Hockwold, who was made a knyght of the Bath 31 May, 1533, was the only son of Sir Wm. Tyndall of Hockwold, K.B., who died 22 Feb., 1405-6, by his wife Mary, da. of Osbert Mondeford of Hockwold, Esq. He married, 1st, Amphilis, da. of Sir Humphrey Coningsby, Knt., who died 18 Jan., 1532-3; 2ndly, 1534, Winifred, da. of Thomas Cawse, Alderman of Norwich, widow of Henry Dynne of Heydon, Esq., and relict of Sir Henry Fermor of E. Barsham, Knt. Sir John Tyndall died 1 Oct. 1539, æt. 53. His will dated 16 May, 1538.—Proved (P. C. C.) 8 Nov. 1539.

Beatrice, 5 daughter of Sir John Tindall and Dame Amphilis h. w., unmarried 1538, afterward second wife to Robert Dynne of Heydon, Esq. They were living 1563.

144. Clere of Ormesby.

Arms: Quarterly of six:—1, Argent, on a fess azure three eagles displayed or; 2, Gules, a bend counter gobony or and azure, between six cross-crosslets fitchée; 3, Gules, a fess or, and in chief a label of three points throughout ermine; 4, Argent, a chevron between three delves and two cross-crosslets fitchée in chief, and one cross-crosslet and two delves in base; 5, Argent, a cross moline gules, charged with another in the centre in the dexter chief for difference; 6, Argent, a horse saddled and bridled sable. Names Clere, Ormesby, Sneke, Westles, Udall, Ruslings impaling Fulmerston, Or, on a fess between three doves azure a rose betwixt two garbs of the field.

Crest: Out of a ducal coronet or, a panache of feathers proper; 2nd, an estoile or between two wings elevated azure.
An eagle displayed or.—Harl. MSS. 1552, fo. 117.

Note.—All authorities agree in disputing the accuracy of the early part of the Clere pedigree; indeed, some have asserted that it must have been forged by one of the heralds, probably during the reign of Queen Elizabeth. P. Le Neve writes, "All, or the most part, forged, as I am affraid, and wrong dated I am sure." Blomefield, vol. xi. p. 235, "I am apt to conclude these two descents of Nicholas, William, and Robert in the pedigree are all fictitious, as I find none of their names mentioned, or their matches, in any record that I have yet seen; but to confirm what I have here observed, it appears from a fine, 30th Edward III. (1365), that John de Westlers and Burga his wife conveyed three messuages and lands in Rollesby to William Clere and Dionycia his wife."

* Who was Sir Henry Clere, Knt., of Stanfield? I can discover no trace of him nor of his daughter Frances after the year 1608. Blomefield and Sir Bernard Burke (vide Extinct Baronetage) both confound him with Sir Henry Clere, Bart., whom they style Sir Henry Clere, Knt. and Bart., but in the Patent of Creation dated 27 Feby., 1620, Sir Henry is called "Henry Clere of Ormesby, co. Norfolk, Esq., son and heir apparent of Edward Clere of Thetford in the same county, Knt." Diligent search has been made, but the identification of Sir Henry Clere, Knt., still remains a mystery.—

W. E. G. L. B.

1596, 21 May. "John Dixon deposes . . . . . that the said Mr. Thomas Shelton, his widow . . . . . had said lands, &c. . . . . until such time as she took to husband Henry Clare, Esq., which was about four years last passed."—Deposition Books, Episcop. Reg., Norwich.

THE CLERE FAMILY OF IRELAND.

The first person of the name of Clere on record in the Office Books is the Very Rev. David Clere, appointed Dean of Waterford by Patent dated 9 August, 1570. He was an M.A., and as this date was before the foundation of Trinity College, Dublin, he must have been a graduate of Oxford or Cambridge, where his matriculation would show his parentage. His will, dated 31 Jany., 1601, was proved in the Prerogative Court of Ireland, 26 March following. He mentions his sons, Walter Clere, Luke Clere of Kilkenny, Nicholas Clere of Kilkenny, and two daughters, Margaret and Jane; also a brother Thomas Clere, who had two sons, James Clere, who was living at Ferns, co. Wexford, 1630; Robert Clere; and a daughter, Alson.

Sir Thomas Masterson, governor and grantee of Ferns Castle, temp. Queen Elizabeth, married Katherine, daughter of —— Clere of Kilkenny, she died 30 Jany., 1596, and was buried at Kilkenny. Her death is recorded in the Funeral Entries, vol. i., p. 10, where the arms recorded as hers are the same as those of Clere of Ormesby, Bart., viz., Argent, on a fesse azure three eagles displayed or. Signed, J. Bernard Burke, Ulster.

The above has been very kindly contributed by Sir J. Bernard Burke, who states in his Extinct Baronetcies that the Irish branch terminated in an heiress "Mary Clere, only daughter of John Clere, Esq., of Kilbury, who married 28 June, 1754, Sir Wm. Parsons, Bart., of Birr Castle, M.P. for King's Co."—W. E. G. L. B.

IPSWICH, ST. MARY AT YE QUAI.

Under a stone lies Mary Cleere, wife of Thomas Cleere, Gent, 1618.

"Cleere was my name, my life was also Cleare,
Earst that this life I left this did appear,
Like name like life, for I the light did love,
Even unto men as unto God above,
Remit who did my sinnes, my feares Remove,
Ere that he called my soule to Christ my love."

LAMBETH, SURREY.

Here under this tombe lyeth buried the body of Thomas Clere, Esquire, sonne of Robert Clere of the County of Norfolk, Knight. Which Thomas deceased 14 April, A.D. 1545, on whose soule, and all Christian soules, Jesu have mercy.

Over the above, portrait of a gentleman completely armed, and on a fess three eaglets displayed, quartered with a cross moline and crescent for difference, and the following poetical inscription composed by the celebrated Earl of Surrey.

Norfolke sprang thee, Lambethe holds thee dead,
Clere of the county of Cleremont thou hight,
Within the wombe of Ormond's race thou bred,
And sawest thy Cosin crowned in thy sight.
Shelton for Love, Surrey for Lord thou chase,
Aye me! while life did last, that league was tender,
Tracing whose steps, thou sawest Kelsall blaze,
Laundersey burnt, and battered Bullen render;
At Muttrell gates hopeless of all Re-cure.
Thine Earl, halfe dead, gave in thy hand his will;
Which cause did thee this pining death procure,
Ere summers four times seven thou couldst fulfil.
Ah! Clere, if Love had booted, care or cost,
Heaven had not wonne, nor earth so timely lost.

Manning and Bray's Surrey, vol. iii.

Dame Anne Clere, relict of Sir Thomas Clere, Knt., and dau. and heir of Robert Gygges of Rollesby [Clere Pedigree, p. 271], was buried in Stokesby Church. The brass to her memory, now much mutilated, but displaying the shields of her three husbands, is engraved by Cotman, vol. i., p. 41, plate 78. The quarterings on the fourth shield are puzzling, and the Rev. C. R.

Notes (continued.)

Manning is of opinion that Cotman's engraver made several omissions and mistakes, and that the quarterings were undoubtedly those of Paston. This confirms the statement made in the Clumber MS. Pedigree by Sandford (Norf. Arch. iv. 41), and by Blomefield (vol. vi. p. 487), that she was married to Philip Paston, son of Sir John Paston, Knt. Mr. Chas. Norton Elvin coinciding with this view, has been kind enough to describe these quarterings correctly.

CHANCERY PLEADINGS.

Bills and Answers temp. Jac. I.

C $\frac{2}{10}$. Cleere v. Hobart. Plaintiff was Dame Meryel Cleere, late wife of Sir Henry Cleere, Bart. Mention is made of Sir Edward, father of Sir Henry; also Dame Abigail Mountforde, mother of Dame Meryel. Dispute over the settlements. [Lengthy proceedings.]

C $\frac{7}{26}$. Cleere v. Shelverd. Plaintiff was Dame Elizth., widow of Sir Francis Cleere. Relates to lands in Cotton, Suffolk.

C $\frac{7}{29}$. Cleere v. Ognell. Plaintiff was Dame Meryell Cleere, late wife of Sir Henry Cleere, late of Bokenham, Bart. Sir Edward Clere, her husband's father. Dame Abigail Mountford, mother of plaintiff. Said Meryel and Sir Henry were married in September, 17 James I. Sir Henry died and left issue Abigail Cleere, a daughter of tender years. Bockenham was incumbered by Sir Edward and Sir Henry. The Cleeres seem to have been in financial difficulties. Ognell was a mercer in Cheapside, London, who had supplied goods and had extended the manor of Bockenham Ferry to satisfy his claim.

C $\frac{11}{19}$. Cleere v. Smyth, Knt. Plaintiff swere John Cleere of Ratcliff, Midx., mariner, and Frances his wife, the administratrix of Robert Cleere, late of Stepney, mariner, deceased. John Cleere was a natural brother of Robert Cleere. Robert was of the ship "Trade Increase," and in the East Indies 15 March, 1612. Served three years. Claim for wages due.

C $\frac{30}{9}$. Cleere, Knt., v. Lambert. 4 Nov. 1616. Sir Edwd. Cleere of Thetford, Knt., plaintiff. Alleges that ten years ago Anne Crompton, the natural sister of the plaintiff and wife of William Gilbert, deceased, received by delivery of Sir Edwd. Clere, Knt., plaintiff's father, divers goods in trust for plaintiff; the said Anne lately suddenly died. That Okeover Crompton, her last husband, and Richard Lambert, "being lewd persons," seek to obtain the said goods. That they broke open the lodgings of Mr. Thos. Curson, Gent., of Norwich, where the goods were stored. The answer, with demurrer of Lambert, is a denial of most of the allegations. He says that he bought the goods from Crompton in discharge of a claim of £5; that when he attempted to take possession Clere assaulted, "took him by the hair of the head, and spat in his face," &c.; that Mrs. Crompton was a widow three years and wife of Crompton six years. Demurs on the ground of time elapsed, Sir Edward having been dead fourteen years.

C $\frac{36}{32}$. Cleere v. Kipping. 7 Nov. 1622. Dame Elizth. Clere, widow, late wife of Sir Francis Clere, Knt., plaintiff. Alleges that Sir Edward Clere, Knt., the father, was seized of the Rectory of Frethorpe and conveyed it to said Elizth. on her marriage with Sir Francis, and she has since been in possession. Sir Francis died about twelve years ago. William Kippinge, the defendant, detains title deeds. Defendants answer, that the reversion of the rectory, since the death of Sir Francis, was sold by Sir Edward Clere, the eldest brother and heir of Sir Francis Clere, to Sir Tho. Berney, Knt., deceased.

C $\frac{33}{42}$. Cleere v. Colfer. Nov. 1622. Dame Meryell Cleere, late wife of Sir Henry Cleere of Bockenham Ferry, Bart., plaintiff. Alleges that before marriage she had lands in Suffolk worth 100 marks per annum; that Sir Henry settled on her £400 per annum after his death; her title is now called in question, but she cannot prove it, as the deeds are in the hands of John Copher and Elizabeth his wife, of Norwich, who had two trunks full of deeds of the late Sir Henry, as the latter told her. Defendants answer. Allege an indebtedness of £50 for board, &c., of Sir Henry, Dame Elizabeth, and their family, besides a winding sheet for Sir Henry, which was sent for by plaintiff, or the old Lady Cleere, mother of Sir Henry. Elizabeth Colfer also alleges that the plaintiff suddenly departed from her house in the absence of the other defendant and of Sir Henry; says that plaintiff left the room locked up and took the key with her; that she, Dame Meryell, has often been since to fetch things away; that the goods in the rooms have been extended by the sheriffs of Norwich, at the suit of Thomas Holl, Esq. Defendants do not know what things there are in the rooms.

Bills and Answers, temp. Car. I.

Cc 85, No. 42. [1627.] Clere v. Sawkyns. The plaintiff was John Clere of Colchester, and the proceedings relate to the "White Hart" in that town.

Cc 93, No. 60. [1626.] Clere v. Coke. Plaintiff was Dame Elizabeth Clere, widow of Sir Francis Clere, Knt. Relates to Thorington, which Sir Francis had by grant from his father, Sir Edward Clere, Knt. Mention made of Sir Edward Clere, elder brother of Sir Francis, and his dealings with the manor. Sir Francis fell very sick of a burning fever and died thereof. He conveyed Wenhaston to John Wroth, Esq., plaintiff's uncle, and to John Bynge, Esq., whom he intended to be Henry Bynge, Esq., now Sergeant-at-Law. [Lengthy proceedings arising out of Lady Clere's jointure.]

Cc 94, No. 13. [1626.] Clere v. Weaver. Plaintiff was Sir Edward Clere, Knt., who alleged that Weaver was entrusted with a trunk to take from Norwich to London. That it contained clothes, papers, and other valuables, worth £100, and that it was broken into and the contents removed. Weaver's answer alleges that he did take the trunk to London, but that Sir Edward owed him a considerable sum, that in consequence he, Weaver, being a freeman of London, attached the trunk for the debt according to custom; the trunk was kept intact for twelve months to give Sir Edward an opportunity of redeeming it, at the expiration it was opened, and contained goods worth only £2. 10*s*. Gives a list. This was about two years ago.

Cc 97, No. 20. Clere v. Clere, Knt. Answer, dated 1626, of Sir Edward Cleare, Knight, "to the frivolous and impertinent bill of complaint of Dame Meriel Cleare, widow." Alleges that the bill was issued at the instigation of Dame Abigail Mountford; seeks to deprive defendant of the advantage which he should have by the marriage of his son the said Sir Henry Clere. "And this defendant doth say that by the practises and indirect means of the said Abigail and others of . . . . . consort, the said Sir Henry, this defts. son, did marry and take to wife the said complainant, for that he, said Sir Henry, might have had marriages of greater and better preferment and advancement both for his and this defendant's good than she was."

Cc 98, No. 29. Clere v. Clere, Knt. Answer, dated 1626, of Sir Edward Clere, Knt., to the bill of complaint of Dame Elizabeth Clere. [No information of interest.]

Cc 106, No. 12. Cleer v. Elliott. Bill dated 1649. Plaintiff was John Cleer of Sepulchre's parish, London, cooper. [Relates to a trade dispute.]

Cc 108, No. 42. Clere v. Jenkinson, Knt. Bill dated 2 Nov. 1628. Plaintiff was Mary Clere, widow and executrix of Heigham Clere, late of . . . Norfolk, Gent. Plaintiff was daughter of Richard Jenkinson, late of Tunstall, Norf., Esq., who was twice High Sheriff of Norfolk. Plaintiff had a liberal portion of £700 or £800. She married Heigham Clere, who disposed of part of said portion to pay his debts and part to provide their maintenance. That before plaintiff's friends would consent to the marriage, articles were drawn up about 18 Oct. 1624, and made between Charles Clere of Stokesby, Esq., and Edwd. Clere of Filby, Gent., brothers of the said Heigham, of the one part, and Sir Thos. Jenkinson of Tunstall, Knt., eldest brother of the plaintiff, as her trustee, of the other part. In consideration of the marriage and the portion the Cleres settle an annuity of £60 upon Mary (Clere) Jenkinson, issuing out of their lands for sixty years, if Elizabeth, wife of said Charles Clere, should so long live. That said Charles and Edward now seek wrongfully to detain the said articles. That Heigham Clere had lands in . . . . which he had from his grandmother, and worth £1500. That he was persuaded by Thomas Clere of Stoakesby, Esq., and Ann his wife, deceased, parents of the said Charles, Edward, and Heigham, to sell the same for the purpose of paying some of the debts of the said Thomas, and thus to save the latter's lands. That the said Thomas became bound in the penal sum of £1200 to secure eighty acres of freehold land to said Heigham. That said Heigham entrusted this bond to Mr. Thomas Wyndham, who married Mrs. Suzan Clere, sister of the said Heigham, and who then resided with Thomas Cleere the father. That the said Thomas and Edward, having no children of their own, intimated to Heigham that he would probably at their decease have the whole or greater part of their lands, and therefore he did not press for a settlement of the eighty acres. Said Heigham fell sick in February, 1627, and died thereof, having made his last will and devised to plaintiff all his lands and the benefit of the said bond. Plaintiff proved the will. That Thomas Clere, Esq., dec., brother of the said Heigham, devised to him £100, appointing as his executor said Thos. Wyndham; that he left estate of great value, far exceeding the debts and legacies. That the said Heigham gave a receipt for the said £100 to his brother Charles in trust. He refuses to pay the £100 as well as the annuity due under the marriage articles.

Answer of Sir Thos. Jenkinson, Knt., who is friendly to plaintiff.

Answer of Thos. Wyndham, Esq. Says he lived in the house of Thos. Clere when Ann, the latter's wife, fell sick and died. That he gave back the bond to the said Heigham Clere himself. That he paid the £100 to Charles Clere at the request of Heigham. That he is not in collusion with the Cleres.

Answer of Charles Clere, Esq., and Edward Clere, Gent. They say that plaintiff's marriage portion was £600. That £100 was paid, but the residue was and is unpaid. The marriage took place about four years ago. That Heigham had no lands from his grandmother, but a sum of £200 came from her which was invested in land at Trigby in names of Edward and Heigham. That they, the defendants, Charles and Edward, being s. p., intended to leave their lands to Heigham. That he died s. p. in June last. That the annuity has not been paid since, and that they leave the said plaintiff to take her remedy at the common law. That the said Heigham did not spend any part of the plaintiff's marriage portion, part of which is still owing. [Long proceedings.]

Cc 114, No. 52. Cleere, Lady, v. Stone. Bill dated 23 Jan. 1629. Plaintiff was Dame Elizabeth Cleere, widow, late wife of Sir Francis Clere, Knt., deceased. Alleges that Robert Christopher, late of London, Gent., was in . . . . seized of a great messuage now in the tenure of said Elizabeth Cleere, in Coleman Street, London, adjoining on the north the "Bell," and on the south a messuage in the tenure of Wm. Danyell, Serjeant-at-Law, now Sir Wm. D., Justice of the Common Pleas, and west on the High Street there. Said messuage was bought by Thomas Wrothe, Esq., plaintiff's father, who by will 14 August, 1610, devised it to said Sir Francis and Elizabeth his wife. [The dispute relates to ancient lights: some interesting particulars of rooms in the house are given.]

Cc 116, No. 55. [Date 1626.] Cleere v. Parkinson. Plaintiff, Mary Cleere of Colchester, Essex, widow. That her late husband, Benjamin Cleere, was a merchant and mariner, and had dealings with Thomas Parkinson, a linen draper. That about three years ago the said Benjamin Cleere, being in parts beyond the seas at Virginia, there died intestate, leaving six small children unprovided for. She has taken out administration. Asks for an account against Parkinson. He replies with a denial of liability.

Cc 120, No. 27. [April 1630.] Cleere v. Cleere. Plaintiffs, Charles Cleere of Stokesby, Esq., and Edward Cleere of Filby, Gent. Recites treaty of marriage between Heigham Cleere, brother and heir apparent of the said plaintiffs, and Mary Jenkinson, sister and heir of Thomas Jenkinson, Knt. That they expected that she should have £700 for her marriage portion, and in consideration thereof the said Charles Cleere granted an annual rent-charge to Mary Jenkinson of £60 out of his manors and lands, and also settled the said manors and lands on said Heigham in tail male. That the marriage took place, and they lived together four years. No part of the £700 was paid. Heigham Cleere died about two years ago. The said Mary Clere was his executrix. Disagreements arose between her and the plaintiffs which at last were settled by the mediation of friends. It was arranged that Mary should have the said annuity for life, and £280 within six months of the death of the said Charles Clere. For security Mary was to bring an action for debt against the said Charles Clere in the Common Pleas, that judgment should be signed, but that no execution should issue, but that a bond of defeazance should be entered into. Complains that Mary now declines to sign the bond, and threatens to issue execution.

Cc 121, No. 42. Cleere v. Fiske. Replication of Dame Elizabeth Cleere and John Wroth to the answer of Henry Fiske.

Cc 122, No. 105. Cleere v. Fiske. Bill dated 19 Nov. 1622. Plaintiff, Dame Elizabeth Cleere, late wife of Sir Francis Cleere, Knight, and John Wroth of North Pewerton, Somerset, Esq. Say that they are seized of the manor of Thorington Hall, and also of Wangford Fennes. [Relates to disputes with Fiske, who was a copyhold tenant.]

Cc 124, No. 70. Cleere v. G . . . Replication of John Cleere, Gent., to the answer of Edmund G . . . [Dispute relates to money only.]

Cc 125, No. 128. Cleere v. Gravenor. Bill, 13 April, 1627. Plaintiff, William Cleere of Wapping, Middlesex, clothier, against John Gravenor. Trade dispute about the sale of some wool: paintiff Cleere was thrown into prison for three months for debt.

Cc 127, No. 110. Cleere v. Earl of Lincoln. Replication of Dame Elizabeth Cleere to the answer of the Earl of Huntingdon. Relates to lands in Pointing, Milthorpe, and Aslaby. Mention made of Sir Francis and Sir Edward Clere. [Long replication, but no pedigree information of value.]

Cc 114, No. 52. Cleere v. Stone. Plaintiff was Dame Elizth. Cleere, late wife of Sir Francis Cleere, Knt. Bill dated 23 Jan. 1629. Answer of Andrew Stone. [Dispute over rights of light in Coleman Street, London.]

Cc 116, No. 19. Cleere v. Girling. Replication only extant (no date) by Dame Elizth. Cleere to the answer of John Girlinge. Wm. Girlinge, dec., the defendant's father, was bailiff to Sir Francis Clere, and this was a claim in respect of £700 alleged to have been received by Wm. Girlinge, and which plaintiff alleged had come into the hands of John Girlinge.

Cc 117, No. 20. Clere v. Ognell. Replication only extant (no date) of Dame Lady (sic) Meriell Cleere to the answer of George Ognell. Says that she can prove that Bockenham Ferry was bona fide settled on her for a jointure by Sir Edwd. Cleere, Knt., in Nov., 17 James, in consideration of £3000 her portion. That she can prove that the bond for £200 entered into by the said Sir Edward Clere was long since satisfied, for that Sir Edward was taken in execution thereon, and informed the then Lord Chancellor of the defendant's dishonest and unconscionable dealings. The matter was heard by the Master of the Rolls, who discharged Sir Edward out of prison, and did much blame and rebuke the defendant, and that if he heard any more of such his bad dealings he would inflict some punishment upon him. That the manor of Bockenham Ferry was assured to the said Sir Henry Clere before the hearing of the said Cocke in court.

Cc $\frac{2}{4}$. Replication of Dame Elizabeth Clere, widow, to the answers of John Blomfield. [No information given and no other document accompanies this.]

Cc $\frac{6}{15}$. Clere v. Denny. 3 Nov. 1631. Plaintiff, Dame Elizth. Clere, widow, late wife of Sir Francis Clere. She has been seized of the manor of Cotton Hempnalls, co. Suffolk. Relates to a right of way claimed by her. The answer of Denny alleges that late Sir Francis conveyed the fee simple of said manor to Mr. Binge, Sergeant-at-Law.

Cc $\frac{10}{59}$. Clere v. Holl. 1626. Plaintiff, Dame Meriel Clere, late wife of Sir Henry Clere, Knt. and Bart., dec. Alleges that Sir Edwd. Clere, late of Ormesby, about six years ago, in consideration of marriage between plaintiff and Sir Henry Clere, conveyed property to trustees, John Athowe and Anthony Hobart, to hold in trust for Sir Henry for life in tail; remainde to the right heirs of Sir Edward. Dame Meriel to have an annuity of £400. Sir Henry mortgaged the premises to Thos. Holl for £1000. Sir Henry died about five years ago. Sir Henry left chattels worth at least £300. Plaintiff was then young, and unacquainted with business. Tho. Holl offered to assist her. Advised her to take out letters of administration, Sir Henry having died intestate. A Mr. Kent was brought to make an inventory of the furniture, &c. Plaintiff wished to leave Bockenham Ferry to Sir Edward and to rely on her annuity, but was dissuaded from this by Holl. Chattels were valued at £185, being worth more. Holl then put in claim for £125, and took possession of the goods; he also took £48 of rent. Plaintiff, unwilling to have her house quite unfurnished, took goods of Holl to value of £113, and she and her mother, Lady Abigail Mountford, became bound therefore with three other bonds of £120 to secure principal and interest at 10 per cent. He also set on foot an old judgment, and has entered Buckenham Ferry. Holl has security to the value of £4000 to secure £1000. Holl's answer is a very long one, but throws no light on the pedigree. Mention is made of Colfer. [See former suit, Cleere v. Colfer.]

Cc $\frac{34}{52}$. Bill of Revivor of Dame Elizth. Cleere, widow, late wife of Sir Francis Cleere, Knt., dec. 11 Feb. 1640. Alleges that in March, 1630, she exhibited a bill which alleged that Sir Fras. Cleere was seized of the manor of Cotton Hempnell, Suffolk, and by indenture, Oct. 5, Jas. I., leased same to Zebediah Shelverd of Cotton. Sir Francis died about fourteen years since. Zebediah assigned his interest to his sons Richard and John, and they to John Blomefield, who refused to pay rent of £6. 13*s.* 4*d.* He has the deeds. The answer refers to the bill exhibited against John Blomefield, father of John the defendant, in 1629. Zebediah Shelverd alias Whitinge. The son is described as R. Shelverd alias Shelford.

Cc $\frac{40}{8}$. 6 Nov. 1624. This is the answer of Richard Shelvard, the defendant, to the bill of Dame Elizth. Clere, widow. Refers to his former full answer. Mentions a ground called the Twenty Acres, in the possession of Sir Francis, late of Dame Elizabeth.

Ce $\frac{37}{67}$. Clere v. Freeman. 12 Feb. 1643. Bill of Dame Elizth Clere, widow, late wife of Sir Francis Clere, Knt., deceased. Relates to lands in Mendlesham, Suffolk, of which Dame Elizabeth was the mortgagee.

Ce $\frac{71}{63}$. Coke, Knt., v. Clere, Lady. Plaintiff, Dame Elizth. Clere, widow, late wife of Sir Francis Clere. Relates to Wenhaston and Thorington. Mentions Sir Edwd. Clere and his sons Sir Edwd. and Sir Francis Clere. Former bills and proceedings set out in detail. At this time Sir Edward Clere, the son, was in the Fleet prison for contempt of court. Mention of the death of Sir Francis, who was suddenly taken sick in London.

[N.B.—These proceedings are extremely lengthy, one answer alone occupying two large skins.]

Ce $\frac{93}{43}$. Clere v. Blomefield. 23 Jan. 1629. Plaintiff, Dame Elizabeth Clere, widow of Sir Francis Clere. Relates to Cotton Hempnall, and the lease to Shelverd. John Blomefield was the defendant.

Ce $\frac{73}{49}$. Clere, Lady, v. Lincoln, Earl. Plaintiff, Dame Elizabeth Clere, late wife of Sir Francis. Mentions lands in Poynton, Milthorp, and Asleby. Disputes arising out of the settlement made by Sir Edward Clere, the father, on his sons, Sir Edw. and Sir Francis.

Answers of the defendants, the Earl of Lincoln and John Obrey or Obery.

[N.B.—These are also lengthy proceedings.]

CLOSE ROLLS.

3 Jac. I. part 38. Henry Clere of Stanfyld [Hall?] Knight, co. Norfolk. Bond in £200 to the Lord Chancellor, dated 22 Nov. 1605. Condition that he should observe the terms of an order in Chancery of the 20 Nov. 1605, in a suit between the said Sir Henry Clere, plaintiff, and Edward Robins and Phillip Comner, defendants.

Grant to Henry Clere and his heir of the dignity of Baronet.

1621, 26 Feb.

The King to all, &c.

"Know ye that we of our special grace have created and by these presents do create and constitute for us, our heirs and successors, our beloved subject Henry Clere of Ormsbye in the County of Norfolk, Esq., son and heir apparent of Edward Clere of Thetford in the same county, Knight, a man belonging to a family of good estate and good manners, who gave and rendered to us aid and help generously and freely to maintain and support 30 men in our company of foot in our Kingdom of Ireland for three whole years, for the defence of our said kingdom, and especially for the security of the said plantation in the province of Ulster, to and in the dignity and state and rank of a Baronet.

We create and constitute the said Henry Clere a Baronet for us and for our heirs and successors, to have to himself and his heirs male of his body lawfully begotten for ever. We will also and by these presents do grant to Henry Clere and his heirs male that they may have, enjoy, hold, and take the place and precedence by virtue of the dignity of a Baronet, and by force of these presents, as well in all commissions, writs, letters patent, &c., as in all sessions, meetings, and places whatsoever next to and immediately after the younger sons of Viscounts, &c., &c., those knights only excepted who bear our standards for us and our heirs in the Royal Navy, in open war, when the King is personally present; also excepting those knights . . . . . who might happen to be created by our eldest son Charles, now Prince of Wales, there personally present in open war, and not otherwise, &c., &c."

Dame Anne Clere, relict of Sir Thomas Clere, Knt., and dau. and heir of Robert Gygges of Rollesby [Clere Pedigree, p. 271], was buried in Stokesby Church. The brass to her memory, now much mutilated, but displaying the shields of her three husbands, is engraved by Cotman, vol. i., p. 41, plate 78. The quarterings on the fourth shield are puzzling, and the Rev. C. R.

Manning is of opinion that Cotman's engraver made several omissions and mistakes, and that the quarterings were undoubtedly those of Paston. This confirms the statement made in the Clumber MS. Pedigree by Sandford (Norf. Arch. iv. 41), and by Blomefield (vol. vi. p. 487), that she was married to Philip Paston, son of Sir John Paston, Knt. Mr. Chas. Norton Elvin coinciding with this view, has been kind enough to describe these quarterings correctly.

CHANCERY PLEADINGS.

Bills and Answers temp. Jac. I.

C $\frac{8}{71}$. Cleere v. Hobart. Plaintiff was Dame Meryel Cleere, late wife of Sir Henry Cleere, Bart. Mention is made of Sir Edward, father of Sir Henry; also Dame Abigail Mountforde, mother of Dame Meryel. Dispute over the settlements. [Lengthy proceedings.]

C $\frac{7}{216}$. Cleere v. Shelverd. Plaintiff was Dame Elizth., widow of Sir Francis Cleere. Relates to lands in Cotton, Suffolk.

C $\frac{7}{29}$. Cleere v. Ognell. Plaintiff was Dame Meryell Cleere, late wife of Sir Henry Cleere, late of Bokenham, Bart. Sir Edward Clere, her husband's father. Dame Abigail Mountford, mother of plaintiff. Said Meryel and Sir Henry were married in September, 17 James I. Sir Henry died and left issue Abigail Cleere, a daughter of tender years. Bockenham was incumbered by Sir Edward and Sir Henry. The Cleeres seem to have been in financial difficulties. Ognell was a mercer in Cheapside, London, who had supplied goods and had extended the manor of Bockenham Ferry to satisfy his claim.

C $\frac{14}{10}$. Cleere v. Smyth, Knt. Plaintiff swere John Cleere of Ratcliff, Midx., mariner, and Frances his wife, the administratrix of Robert Cleere, late of Stepney, mariner, deceased. John Cleere was a natural brother of Robert Cleere. Robert was of the ship "Trade Increase," and in the East Indies 15 March, 1612. Served three years. Claim for wages due.

C $\frac{29}{40}$. Cleere, Knt., v. Lambert. 4 Nov. 1616. Sir Edwd. Cleere of Thetford, Knt., plaintiff. Alleges that ten years ago Anne Crompton, the natural sister of the plaintiff and wife of William Gilbert, deceased, received by delivery of Sir Edwd. Clere, Knt., plaintiff's father, divers goods in trust for plaintiff; the said Anne lately suddenly died. That Okeover Crompton, her last husband, and Richard Lambert, "being lewd persons," seek to obtain the said goods. That they broke open the lodgings of Mr. Thos. Curson, Gent., of Norwich, where the goods were stored. The answer, with demurrer of Lambert, is a denial of most of the allegations. He says that he bought the goods from Crompton in discharge of a claim of £5; that when he attempted to take possession Clere assaulted, "took him by the hair of the head, and spat in his face," &c.; that Mrs. Crompton was a widow three years and wife of Crompton six years. Demurs on the ground of time elapsed, Sir Edward having been dead fourteen years.

C $\frac{39}{39}$. Cleere v. Kipping. 7 Nov. 1622. Dame Elizth. Clere, widow, late wife of Sir Francis Clere, Knt., plaintiff. Alleges that Sir Edward Clere, Knt., the father, was seized of the Rectory of Frethorpe and conveyed it to said Elizth. on her marriage with Sir Francis, and she has since been in possession. Sir Francis died about twelve years ago. William Kippinge, the defendant, detains title deeds. Defendants answer, that the reversion of the rectory, since the death of Sir Francis, was sold by Sir Edward Clere, the eldest brother and heir of Sir Francis Clere, to Sir Tho. Berney, Knt., deceased.

C $\frac{32}{32}$. Cleere v. Colfer. Nov. 1622. Dame Meryell Cleere, late wife of Sir Henry Cleere of Bockenham Ferry, Bart., plaintiff. Alleges that before marriage she had lands in Suffolk worth 100 marks per annum; that Sir Henry settled on her £400 per annum after his death; her title is now called in question, but she cannot prove it, as the deeds are in the hands of John Copher and Elizabeth his wife, of Norwich, who had two trunks full of deeds of the late Sir Henry, as the latter told her. Defendants answer. Allege an indebtedness of £50 for board, &c., of Sir Henry, Dame Elizabeth, and their family, besides a winding sheet for Sir Henry, which was sent for by plaintiff, or the old Lady Cleere, mother of Sir Henry. Elizabeth Colfer also alleges that the plaintiff suddenly departed from her house in the absence of the other defendant and of Sir Henry; says that plaintiff left the room locked up and took the key with her; that she, Dame Meryell, has often been since to fetch things away; that the goods in the rooms have been extended by the sheriffs of Norwich, at the suit of Thomas Holl, Esq. Defendants do not know what things there are in the rooms.

Bills and Answers, temp. Car. I.

Ce 85, No. 42. [1627.] Clere v. Sawkyns. The plaintiff was John Clere of Colchester, and the proceedings relate to the "White Hart" in that town.

Cc 93, No. 60. [1626.] Clere v. Coke. Plaintiff was Dame Elizabeth Clere, widow of Sir Francis Clere, Knt. Relates to Thorington, which Sir Francis had by grant from his father, Sir Edward Clere, Knt. Mention made of Sir Edward Clere, elder brother of Sir Francis, and his dealings with the manor. Sir Francis fell very sick of a burning fever and died thereof. He conveyed Wenhaston to John Wroth, Esq., plaintiff's uncle, and to John Bynge, Esq., whom he intended to be Henry Bynge, Esq., now Sergeant-at-Law. [Lengthy proceedings arising out of Lady Clere's jointure.]

Cc 94, No. 13. [1626.] Clere v. Weaver. Plaintiff was Sir Edward Clere, Knt., who alleged that Weaver was entrusted with a trunk to take from Norwich to London. That it contained clothes, papers, and other valuables, worth £100, and that it was broken into and the contents removed. Weaver's answer alleges that he did take the trunk to London, but that Sir Edward owed him a considerable sum, that in consequence he, Weaver, being a freeman of London, attached the trunk for the debt according to custom; the trunk was kept intact for twelve months to give Sir Edward an opportunity of redeeming it, at the expiration it was opened, and contained goods worth only £2. 10*s*. Gives a list. This was about two years ago.

Cc 97, No. 20. Clere v. Clere, Knt. Answer, dated 1626, of Sir Edward Cleare, Knight, "to the frivolous and impertinent bill of complaint of Dame Meriel Cleare, widow." Alleges that the bill was issued at the instigation of Dame Abigail Mountford; seeks to deprive defendant of the advantage which he should have by the marriage of his son the said Sir Henry Clere. "And this defendant doth say that by the practises and indirect means of the said Abigail and others of . . . . . consort, the said Sir Henry, this defts. son, did marry and take to wife the said complainant, for that he, said Sir Henry, might have had marriages of greater and better preferment and advancement both for his and this defendant's good than she was."

Cc 98, No. 29. Clere v. Clere, Knt. Answer, dated 1626, of Sir Edward Clere, Knt., to the bill of complaint of Dame Elizabeth Clere. [No information of interest.]

Cc 106, No. 12. Cleer v. Elliott. Bill dated 1649. Plaintiff was John Cleer of Sepulchre's parish, London, cooper. [Relates to a trade dispute.]

Cc 108, No. 42. Clere v. Jenkinson, Knt. Bill dated 2 Nov. 1628. Plaintiff was Mary Clere, widow and executrix of Heigham Clere, late of . . . Norfolk, Gent. Plaintiff was daughter of Richard Jenkinson, late of Tunstall, Norf., Esq., who was twice High Sheriff of Norfolk. Plaintiff had a liberal portion of £700 or £800. She married Heigham Clere, who disposed of part of said portion to pay his debts and part to provide their maintenance. That before plaintiff's friends would consent to the marriage, articles were drawn up about 18 Oct. 1624, and made between Charles Clere of Stokesby, Esq., and Edwd. Clere of Filby, Gent., brothers of the said Heigham, of the one part, and Sir Thos. Jenkinson of Tunstall, Knt., eldest brother of the plaintiff, as her trustee, of the other part. In consideration of the marriage and the portion the Cleres settle an annuity of £60 upon Mary (Clere) Jenkinson, issuing out of their lands for sixty years, if Elizabeth, wife of said Charles Clere, should so long live. That said Charles and Edward now seek wrongfully to detain the said articles. That Heigham Clere had lands in . . . . which he had from his grandmother, and worth £1500. That he was persuaded by Thomas Clere of Stoakesby, Esq., and Ann his wife, deceased, parents of the said Charles, Edward, and Heigham, to sell the same for the purpose of paying some of the debts of the said Thomas, and thus to save the latter's lands. That the said Thomas became bound in the penal sum of £1200 to secure eighty acres of freehold land to said Heigham. That said Heigham entrusted this bond to Mr. Thomas Wyndham, who married Mrs. Suzan Clere, sister of the said Heigham, and who then resided with Thomas Cleere the father. That the said Thomas and Edward, having no children of their own, intimated to Heigham that he would probably at their decease have the whole or greater part of their lands, and therefore he did not press for a settlement of the eighty acres. Said Heigham fell sick in February, 1627, and died thereof, having made his last will and devised to plaintiff all his lands and the benefit of the said bond. Plaintiff proved the will. That Thomas Clere, Esq., dec., brother of the said Heigham, devised to him £100, appointing as his executor said Thos. Wyndham; that he left estate of great value, far exceeding the debts and legacies. That the said Heigham gave a receipt for the said £100 to his brother Charles in trust. He refuses to pay the £100 as well as the annuity due under the marriage articles.

Answer of Sir Thos. Jenkinson, Knt., who is friendly to plaintiff.

Answer of Thos. Wyndham, Esq. Says he lived in the house of Thos. Clere when Ann, the latter's wife, fell sick and died. That he gave back the bond to the said Heigham Clere himself. That he paid the £100 to Charles Clere at the request of Heigham. That he is not in collusion with the Cleres.

Answer of Charles Clere, Esq., and Edward Clere, Gent. They say that plaintiff's marriage portion was £600. That £100 was paid, but the residue was and is unpaid. The marriage took place about four years ago. That Heigham had no lands from his grandmother, but a sum of £200 came from her which was invested in land at Trigby in names of Edward and Heigham. That they, the defendants, Charles and Edward, being s. p., intended to leave their lands to Heigham. That he died s. p. in June last. That the annuity has not been paid since, and that they leave the said plaintiff to take her remedy at the common law. That the said Heigham did not spend any part of the plaintiff's marriage portion, part of which is still owing. [Long proceedings.]

Ce 114, No. 52. Cleere, Lady, v. Stone. Bill dated 23 Jan. 1629. Plaintiff was Dame Elizabeth Cleere, widow, late wife of Sir Francis Clere, Knt., deceased. Alleges that Robert Christopher, late of London, Gent., was in . . . . seized of a great messuage now in the tenure of said Elizabeth Cleere, in Coleman Street, London, adjoining on the north the "Bell," and on the south a messuage in the tenure of Wm. Danyell, Serjeant-at-Law, now Sir Wm. D., Justice of the Common Pleas, and west on the High Street there. Said messuage was bought by Thomas Wrothe, Esq., plaintiff's father, who by will 14 August, 1610, devised it to said Sir Francis and Elizabeth his wife. [The dispute relates to ancient lights: some interesting particulars of rooms in the house are given.]

Ce 116, No. 55. [Date 1626.] Cleere v. Parkinson. Plaintiff, Mary Cleere of Colchester, Essex, widow. That her late husband, Benjamin Cleere, was a merchant and mariner, and had dealings with Thomas Parkinson, a linen draper. That about three years ago the said Benjamin Cleere, being in parts beyond the seas at Virginia, there died intestate, leaving six small children unprovided for. She has taken out administration. Asks for an account against Parkinson. He replies with a denial of liability.

Ce 120, No. 27. [April 1630.] Cleere v. Cleere. Plaintiffs, Charles Cleere of Stokesby, Esq., and Edward Cleere of Filby, Gent. Recites treaty of marriage between Heigham Cleere, brother and heir apparent of the said plaintiffs, and Mary Jenkinson, sister and heir of Thomas Jenkinson, Knt. That they expected that she should have £700 for her marriage portion, and in consideration thereof the said Charles Cleere granted an annual rent-charge to Mary Jenkinson of £60 out of his manors and lands, and also settled the said manors and lands on said Heigham in tail male. That the marriage took place, and they lived together four years. No part of the £700 was paid. Heigham Cleere died about two years ago. The said Mary Clere was his executrix. Disagreements arose between her and the plaintiffs which at last were settled by the mediation of friends. It was arranged that Mary should have the said annuity for life, and £280 within six months of the death of the said Charles Clere. For security Mary was to bring an action for debt against the said Charles Clere in the Common Pleas, that judgment should be signed, but that no execution should issue, but that a bond of defeazance should be entered into. Complains that Mary now declines to sign the bond, and threatens to issue execution.

Ce 121, No. 42. Cleere v. Fiske. Replication of Dame Elizabeth Cleere and John Wroth to the answer of Henry Fiske.

Ce 122, No. 105. Cleere v. Fiske. Bill dated 19 Nov. 1622. Plaintiff, Dame Elizabeth Cleere, late wife of Sir Francis Cleere, Knight, and John Wroth of North Pewerton, Somerset, Esq. Say that they are seized of the manor of Thorington Hall, and also of Wangford Fennes. [Relates to disputes with Fiske, who was a copyhold tenant.]

Ce 124, No. 70. Cleere v. G . . . Replication of John Cleere, Gent., to the answer of Edmund G . . . [Dispute relates to money only.]

Ce 125, No. 128. Cleere v. Gravenor. Bill, 13 April, 1627. Plaintiff, William Cleere of Wapping, Middlesex, clothier, against John Gravenor. Trade dispute about the sale of some wool: paintiff Cleere was thrown into prison for three months for debt.

Cc 127, No. 110. Cleere v. Earl of Lincoln. Replication of Dame Elizabeth Cleere to the answer of the Earl of Huntingdon. Relates to lands in Pointing, Milthorpe, and Aslaby. Mention made of Sir Francis and Sir Edward Clere. [Long replication, but no pedigree information of value.]

Cc 114, No. 52. Cleere v. Stone. Plaintiff was Dame Elizth. Cleere, late wife of Sir Francis Cleere, Knt. Bill dated 23 Jan. 1629. Answer of Andrew Stone. [Dispute over rights of light in Coleman Street, London.]

Cc 116, No. 19. Cleere v. Girling. Replication only extant (no date) by Dame Elizth. Cleere to the answer of John Girlinge. Wm. Girlinge, dec., the defendant's father, was bailiff to Sir Francis Clere, and this was a claim in respect of £700 alleged to have been received by Wm. Girlinge, and which plaintiff alleged had come into the hands of John Girlinge.

Cc 117, No. 20. Clere v. Ognell. Replication only extant (no date) of Dame Lady (sic) Meriell Cleere to the answer of George Ognell. Says that she can prove that Bockenham Ferry was bona fide settled on her for a jointure by Sir Edwd. Cleere, Knt., in Nov., 17 James, in consideration of £3000 her portion. That she can prove that the bond for £200 entered into by the said Sir Edward Clere was long since satisfied, for that Sir Edward was taken in execution thereon, and informed the then Lord Chancellor of the defendant's dishonest and unconscionable dealings. The matter was heard by the Master of the Rolls, who discharged Sir Edward out of prison, and did much blame and rebuke the defendant, and that if he heard any more of such his bad dealings he would inflict some punishment upon him. That the manor of Bockenham Ferry was assured to the said Sir Henry Clere before the hearing of the said Cocke in court.

Cc $\frac{2}{4}$. Replication of Dame Elizabeth Clere, widow, to the answers of John Blomfield. [No information given and no other document accompanies this.]

Cc $\frac{6}{18}$. Clere v. Denny. 3 Nov. 1631. Plaintiff, Dame Elizth. Clere, widow, late wife of Sir Francis Clere. She has been seized of the manor of Cotton Hempnalls, co. Suffolk. Relates to a right of way claimed by her. The answer of Denny alleges that late Sir Francis conveyed the fee simple of said manor to Mr. Bingo, Sergeant-at-Law.

Cc $\frac{10}{62}$. Clere v. Holl. 1626. Plaintiff, Dame Meriel Clere, late wife of Sir Henry Clere, Knt. and Bart., dec. Alleges that Sir Edwd. Clere, late of Ormesby, about six years ago, in consideration of marriage between plaintiff and Sir Henry Clere, conveyed property to trustees, John Athowe and Anthony Hobart, to hold in trust for Sir Henry for life in tail; remainde to the right heirs of Sir Edward. Dame Meriel to have an annuity of £400. Sir Henry mortgaged the premises to Thos. Holl for £1000. Sir Henry died about five years ago. Sir Henry left chattels worth at least £300. Plaintiff was then young, and unacquainted with business. Tho. Holl offered to assist her. Advised her to take out letters of administration, Sir Henry having died intestate. A Mr. Kent was brought to make an inventory of the furniture, &c. Plaintiff wished to leave Bockenham Ferry to Sir Edward and to rely on her annuity, but was dissuaded from this by Holl. Chattels were valued at £185, being worth more. Holl then put in claim for £125, and took possession of the goods; he also took £48 of rent. Plaintiff, unwilling to have her house quite unfurnished, took goods of Holl to value of £113, and she and her mother, Lady Abigail Mountford, became bound therefore with three other bonds of £120 to secure principal and interest at 10 per cent. He also set on foot an old judgment, and has entered Buckenham Ferry. Holl has security to the value of £4000 to secure £1000. Holl's answer is a very long one, but throws no light on the pedigree. Mention is made of Colfer. [See former suit, Cleere v. Colfer.]

Cc $\frac{34}{82}$. Bill of Revivor of Dame Elizth. Cleere, widow, late wife of Sir Francis Cleere, Knt., dec. 11 Feb. 1640. Alleges that in March, 1630, she exhibited a bill which alleged that Sir Fras. Cleere was seized of the manor of Cotton Hempnell, Suffolk, and by indenture, Oct. 5, Jas. I., leased same to Zebediah Shelverd of Cotton. Sir Francis died about fourteen years since. Zebediah assigned his interest to his sons Richard and John, and they to John Blomefield, who refused to pay rent of £6. 13*s.* 4*d.* He has the deeds. The answer refers to the bill exhibited against John Blomefield, father of John the defendant, in 1629. Zebediah Shelverd alias Whitinge. The son is described as R. Shelverd alias Shelford.

Cc $\frac{49}{6}$. 6 Nov. 1624. This is the answer of Richard Shelvard, the defendant, to the bill of Dame Elizth. Clere, widow. Refers to his former full answer. Mentions a ground called the Twenty Acres, in the possession of Sir Francis, late of Dame Elizabeth.

Ce $\frac{37}{67}$. Clere v. Freeman. 12 Feb. 1643. Bill of Dame Elizth Clere, widow, late wife of Sir Francis Clere, Knt., deceased. Relates to lands in Mendlesham, Suffolk, of which Dame Elizabeth was the mortgagee.

Ce $\frac{73}{63}$. Coke, Knt., v. Clere, Lady. Plaintiff, Dame Elizth. Clere, widow, late wife of Sir Francis Clere. Relates to Wenhaston and Thorington. Mentions Sir Edwd. Clere and his sons Sir Edwd. and Sir Francis Clere. Former bills and proceedings set out in detail. At this time Sir Edward Clere, the son, was in the Fleet prison for contempt of court. Mention of the death of Sir Francis, who was suddenly taken sick in London.

[N.B.—These proceedings are extremely lengthy, one answer alone occupying two large skins.]

Ce $\frac{81}{83}$. Clere v. Blomefield. 23 Jan. 1629. Plaintiff, Dame Elizabeth Clere, widow of Sir Francis Clere. Relates to Cotton Hempnall, and the lease to Shelverd. John Blomefield was the defendant.

Ce $\frac{73}{42}$. Clere, Lady, v. Lincoln, Earl. Plaintiff, Dame Elizabeth Clere, late wife of Sir Francis. Mentions lands in Poynton, Milthorp, and Asleby. Disputes arising out of the settlement made by Sir Edward Clere, the father, on his sons, Sir Edw. and Sir Francis.

Answers of the defendants, the Earl of Lincoln and John Obrey or Obery.

[N.B.—These are also lengthy proceedings.]

CLOSE ROLLS.

3 Jac. I. part 38. Henry Clere of Stanfyld [Hall?] Knight, co. Norfolk. Bond in £200 to the Lord Chancellor, dated 22 Nov. 1605. Condition that he should observe the terms of an order in Chancery of the 20 Nov. 1605, in a suit between the said Sir Henry Clere, plaintiff, and Edward Robins and Phillip Comner, defendants.

7 Jac. I., part 12. Richard French of Bromeham, Wilts, yeoman, of the one part, and Henry Cleere, citizen and dyer of London, of the other part. Deed of conveyance dated 20 July, 1609, of certain premises in St. Giles' parish, Reading.

7 July, 5 Jac. I. Indenture between John Evelyn of Godstone, Surrey, Esq., of the one part, and Humfry Clare, citizen and draper of London, of the other part. Evelyn, in consideration of £380, grants to Clare three closes of arable land in Norbyton, Surrey, on the south part of London Lane, containing 36a., late in tenure of William Bennet. Excepting 1½a. in the lower close next Martyn Lane, whereof Richard Tyffyn and John Gylpin are seized jure uxoris. Usual covenants for title against himself, his wife, and brother. 5 Jac. I., part 3.

20 July, 1609. Indenture between Richard Teanche of Bromeham, Wilts, yeoman, and Henry Cleere, citizen and dyer of London. Relates to the purchase of premises in St. Giles, Reading, for the sum of £50. 7 Jac. I., part 12.

31 Dec. 1621. To all, &c. Okeover Crompton of Ormesbye, Norfolk, Gent. Reciting that Sir Edwd. Clere by writing dated 9 Sept., 13 Jac. I., granted to Okeover Crompton and Anne his late wife, now deceased, an annuity of £30 issuing out of lands called [Scamleys?] in Tylney, Norfolk, for the lives of said Okeover and Anne, and the longer liver. And also an annuity of £10 for the like period after the death of Dame Agnes Clere, widow, late wife of Sir Edward Clere, deceased. That he is now seized of the said annuities, and in consideration of £125 releases them to Sir Henry Clere of Buckenham, Bart. Dated last day of Dec. 1621. 19 Jac. I., part 6, No. 41.

INQUISITIONS POST MORTEM.

Chancery, 23 Edward III., part 1, No. 96.

A.D. 1349. Writ directed to [Wm.?] de Middleton, escheator. Recites that John, son and heir of Edmund de Clere, holds of the king in chief, and that he says that he is of full age and seeks livery of his lands now in the custody of John de Brocas. That the said John was born at [Stirston?] and bapt. at the church of Walton. Tested at Woodstock, 13 May, 23 Edward III. (1349.) Proof of age appended. Held at Stanford, Norfolk, and taken before Walter de Myddelton, escheator of Norfolk and Suffolk, 18 Aug., 2 Edward III. John Danowe? of Weburch? aged fifty-three, says that said John is son and heir of Edmund de Clere, and attained twenty-one on eighth day after the Feast of St. [Luke?] last. That he was born at Tefford [Thetford?] and was baptized at Church of Saint Peter in that town.

That John Langetot died on the day aforesaid.

Roger, so . . . de Holdwelle, aged forty-five, says . . . .

Andrew de . . . .

William de . . . aged fifty-two.

[Several witnesses were called in proof of age, and deposed to facts which led them to fix the date, but the document is too faded and stained to be readily deciphered.]

Court of Wards and Liveries, Vol. vi. p. 129.

A.D. 1553. Inquisition taken at Norwich in le Sherehous, 12 January, 6 Edward VI. (1553), before John Spencer, Esq., escheator, on the death of Thomas Clere, Knight. The jurors say that Henry VIII., by letters patent dated 25 June, 38 Hen. VIII., granted to said Tho. Clere, "domus Heryngby," co. Norf., commonly called Heryngby College, lately dissolved, a marsh called Chylder Marsh, Tunstall, Norf., also Fermes, Spenceis alias Spencers, Cattes, Snethes in Heryngby.

Also—That he was seized of the manor of Filby with appurts, &c., in Filby, Mawdby, Caster, Ormesby, Thykby, Borowghe St. Marye, Borowghe St. Margaret, Rollesby, Stokesby, Heryngby, and Rougham, in Norfolk, aforesaid, and being so seized by writing dated 20 Nov., — Edward VI., granted to George Funteyn out of the manor of Filby for life.

Also—That said Thomas and Anne his wife were seized in right of Anne for her life in the manor of Barkyns alias Gyges and the appurts. in Filby, Mautby, Thyrkby, Ormesby, and Runham, which with the reversion were lately belonging to John Blakeney, Gent., of which a fine was levied 5 Edward VI., between Thomas Cleare, Knt., querant, and John Blakeney, Gent., deforciant, of the said manor of Barkyns alias Gyggys, and the other premises in Filby, &c., acknowledged to be the right of the said Thomas by gift of said John, warranted against John and his heirs.

Also—That John Brampton, Robert Holdiche, Esqs., Nicholas Hare, Knt., and Edward Jermy, Gent., were seized of the manor of Runham, with the appurts. in Runham, Thyrkeby, Maunteby, and Rakhethe, with view of frankpledge in Rackhethe, and by their charter, dated 8 Jan., 28 Henry VIII., enfeoffed Roger Townesend, Knt., Thomas Clere, Knt., Edmund Wyndham, Tho. Tyndall, Henry Hubberd, and Tho. Godsalve, Esqs., and George Turnour, to hold to the use of the said Thomas Clere and Anne his wife, and the heirs of Thos., and were so seized till 4 Feb., 27 Henry VIII., in which year, by virtue of the statute then passed, [i.e., Statute of Uses, 27 Hen. VIII. cap. 10] said Thomas and Anne became seized in demesne as of fee, and being so seized said Thomas died, and said Anne, by reason of which Anne was seized thereof at time of this inquisition.

Also—That said Thomas Clere so seized on the 22 Nov. 1542, at Stokesby, made his will and (inter alia) willed that said Anne Clere, then his wife, should have the college of Heryngby and the manors of Fennes, Spencers, Smethes, and Cattes in Heryngby, and the manor of Runham and Fylby for life. Remainder to Charles Clere his son in tail. Remainder to right heirs of Thomas. That Anne is now so seized, with remainder to Charles, and in default of issue of Charles to the right heirs of Charles.

Also—That said Thos. was seized of the manor of Gunnors, (?) Norf., being in Crom', Felbrigge, and Runton, which lately belonged to Richard Bylke, Clerk. That the said premises descend to said Charles as son and heir of Thomas.

Also—That said Thomas was seized of the manor of Cowpers and Millers and the appurts. in Baldeswell, Spearham, Foxley, Lyng, Belaught, and Byllingforth next Baldeswell, Norfolk. Also manor of Marthams in Stokesby and other neighbouring towns, which lately belonged to Gregory Calse, merchant. That the said premises descend to said Charles as son and heir of Thomas.

Also—That said Thomas was seized of the manor of Stokesby, &c., in Stokesby, Runham, Heryngby, Filby, Mawteby, Reppes, Caster, Rollesby, Billobye, Owby, and Winterton, which belonged to John Barney, Esq. That the said premises descend to Charles as son and heir of Thomas.

Also—That he was seized of Uptons, Byllys, and Abettes, lying in Stokesby, Heryngby, Runham, and Thyrkby, which lately belonged to Edmund Clear, Esq., together with a certain swan mark called Upton's swanne marke, with all swans and cygnets marked therewith, with the appurts. of Runham, Heryngby, Thyrkeby, and Mawteby, or elsewhere in the Hundred of Westeslegge, lately belonging to Wm. Pycott, alias Pygott, and all messuages in Acle, Mowton, Boyton, Northbyrlyngham, Fysshely, and Upton, lately belonging to Simon Owghlawe; also in Dale, Moughton, Tunstalle, Boyton, Southbyrlyngham, Upton, and Fysshely, or in the hundred of South Walsham, which lately belonged to John Reynes of Acle; also 17a. in Acle, Momes Close, and a marsh called Callys Marsh, which descend to Charles Clere as son and heir.

Also—That said Thomas Clere by will of 22 Nov. last, gave to Edward Jermy his brother an annuity of £8, charged on premises in Acle; also to Edmund Clere, Gent., his nephew [nepos], an annuity of 40*s*., charged on premises in Acle.

The premises are of the annual value of £21. 19*s*. 8½*d*., held by the service of one-fortieth part of of a knight's fee.

The manor of Filby, with the appurts. in Filby, Maundby, Caster, Ormsby, Threkby, Borowgh St. Marie, Borowgh St. Margaret, Rollesby, Stokesby, Heryngby, Runham, lately belonging to James Boleyn, Knt., are held of Thos., Bishop of Norwich, as of his manor of St. Benettes, in socage, at rent of 10*s*. Wife Elizabeth sole executrix, and to have residue for her support and to pay debts.—Proved at Norwich, 12 Aug., 1446, and admin. granted to Elizabeth the relict.

Appended to the above is an indenture setting out the trusts declared by the testator in the presence of John Paston, John Wymondham, Nicholas Applyerd, Esq., brother Henry Wichingham, sacre pagine professor and confessor of said Robert Clere in extremis, Roger Hales, rector of the church of Tacolneston, and Roger Ormesby, respecting a feofment made by the testator of all his lands to John Heydon. The testator desired the foregoing to declare his last will respecting his land to said John Heydon (and his co-feoffees) which he himself could not do by reason of his imminent death and the absence of said John Heydon. Testator's wife Elizabeth to have all manors, lands, &c., without exception for life. That he leaves nothing for the support of his children, but trusts to his wife after her death. In remainder to son William and the heirs of his body the manor of Ormesby, the manor of Winterton, and advowson of church of Winterton, the manor of Frethorp;—to Thomas his son the manor of Stratton Strales (Strawless) to him and the heirs of his body, in default to the right heirs of the body of the said Robert (? the father);—to Robert his son the manor of Kesewyk, to him and the heirs of his body, in default to heirs of the body of Robert the father. If either his two sons, Thomas or Robert, wish to be presented to the Church of Winterton he shall have further the manor of Winterton for life, and the boy so willing to be presented shall lose the other manor to him before limited, and son William shall have manor so lost in recompense of Winterton. If his sons die without heirs of their bodies, remainder to Edmund his brother, the manor of Ormesby. To Margaret his daughter the other manors in form before limited. Appoints no provision for the marriage of his daughter, but leaves it in his wife's discretion. Executed 3 Aug., 24 Hen. VI., 1446.

1477, May 17 (17 Edw. 4.) Elizabeth Clere, widow, sometime wife of Robert Clere of Ormesby, Esq., devises all his lands, &c., as follows. Recites, that Richard Southwell, John Heydon, Roger Tounsende, William Lannis, and Robert Stephenson are infeoffed to uses in the manor of Thurston, Norf., in lands in Wynterton and Somerton, late of Edmund Clere of Stokesby in the said county, called Bretonn, and other lands there and in other towns nigh adjoining, which sometime were Thomas Rychers of Somerton, called Cookes, and sometime parcel of the manor of Sir Bartholomew de Somerton, and other lands of mine purchased at divers times in Ormesby, Clyppesby, Tacolneston, Thurston, Wymondham, or elsewhere, in Norfolk, also manor of Cleydon, co. Suff., which late was Edmund Clere's of Castre, Esq., deceased. Declare the uses (i.e., trusts) of the foregoing, as follows. The manor of Cleydon, which is worth yearly, all charges borne except repairs, £27. 6*s.* 3*d.* My executors with the revenues to find three priests of two years to say masses for souls of self and husband Robert Clere, and of Thomas Uvedale my father and Margaret his wife, my mother, and all ancestors, &c. Twain of these priests to do the services in the Chapel of the Feld where my said mother and William Ryse are buried, saying them at Ryses "awntore." The third priest to say them in St. Margaret's church, Ormsby, where my husband is buried. Salary of each priest 9 marks. Provided that if said R. Stephenson, parson of Tacolneston, be one of the priests for two years, and his life, getting in that behalf a licence, then he is to be so, and to have an annuity of 18 marks; if he say the dirge, &c., elsewhere, then only 9 marks. Further provisions as to yearday of self and mother. Also gifts to the college. Also as to management of estate after the two years. Profits of said manor to go to son Robert on condition that he pay said parson of Tacolneston his pension of 10 marks, and 10 marks to Norwich Cathedral. In default to daughter Margaret Shelton and the heirs of her body. If my will be performed. Trusts to make over property to son Robert for his life, remainder to the heirs of his body, remainder to Margaret Shelton. The manor of Tharston, value £34. 10*s*. 3*d*. Executors out of first year's profits to provide for three priests to go to the University of Cambridge for two years. Monks of St. Benet's Holme, and monks of Bromholme, and the chanons of Langley to say dirge, &c., at my yeardeye. Also each of the three orders of friars in Norwich. Also each of the three orders of Friars in Yermouth. Also the nonnys of Carhowe, Thetford, Bungay, Marsham, and Flixton, to say dirge, &c. Similar further trusts for Robert and Margaret as with Cleydon. Lands in Winterton and Somerton late of Edmund Clere of Stokesby; lands called Breton or Cookes, sometime parcel of the manor of Sir Bartylmewe of Somerton, and all other lands purchased. Trustees to make feofment of them to son Robert and the heirs of his body, remainder to daughter Margaret and heirs of her body. If son Robert do not perform my will, then to daughter Margaret. Recites that son Robert is bound by a bond of the Statute Merchants not to hinder performance of will. If he do hinder it, then the bond to go to trusted son-in-law Rauf Shelton, Esq.; if he neglect to recover the amount within a quarter of a year after default made by Robert, then it is to go to my trusted cousin and special friend Richard Southwell, Esq.; and in default of his recovering them, bond to go to George, now Duke of York. Confirms an annuity to the Cathedral Church of Norwich. Signed, E. C., Robert Clere, Rich. Southwell, Henry Spelman. No probate attached. From Treasury of Receipts, $\frac{22}{22}$.

NOTE.

The Rev. Mark Noble, in his Memoirs of the House of Cromwell, states that John Cromwell, third son of Sir Oliver Cromwell, Knt. (Clere pedigree, p. 269), went early into the army, and in 1624 was a captain in the First Regiment of Foot sent over by King James I. for the recovery of the Palatinate. Afterwards he was colonel of an English regiment in the service of the States of Holland, and was commissioned by Charles, Prince of Wales, and the Prince of Orange, with letters credential from the States to interview his cousin Oliver Cromwell on behalf of that unhappy monarch King Charles the First when he had been condemned to die. The particulars of this unsuccessful interview are narrated by Noble (vol. i. p. 51), who adds, that Colonel John Cromwell returned again to Holland, where he was commanding a regiment in 1653, and where he probably resided during the remainder of his life. In 1650 he applied to his cousin the Lord Protector to expedite the long depending cause between himself and "Abigail, his abandoned wife, through whose misconduct he was reduced to the brink of ruin." The House of Commons ordered this cause to be deferred to the hearing and determination of the Court of Chancery, but no further information can be discovered in the Chancery reports from 1652 to 1660, and it is probable, therefore, that this suit bringing discredit on the name of Cromwell, it was thought advisable to destroy all reports of these proceedings. The following portion of the "Cromwell Pedigree" will show the relationship of Colonel John Cromwell, who married Abigail Clere, to "The Lord Protector."—W. E. G. L. B.

CALENDAR OF STATE PAPERS [DOMESTIC SERIES.]

1638. Petition from John Smith and John Awcocke. "Sir Henry Clere about sixteen years since conveyed to Sir Henry Bedingfield and others divers manors and lands in Norfolk to make sale of the same for payment of his debts and advancement of his lady and daughter, but the same not being vendible by reason of several annuities and incumbrances, the parties interested obtained a decree in Chancery for sale to be made by the feoffees . . . . The annuities have lately ceased, and the king has some right in the matter. The daughter is above sixteen years of age, and she the said ward was no party to the suit, though her mother and grandmother were. . . . . ."

Referred to the Lord Keeper to settle.

LETTER H.

COPY OF A LETTER FROM COLONEL JOHN CROMWELL TO THE LORD GENERAL CROMWELL.

My Lord,

Since my arrivall in these parts, I have binn with the lords commissioners of the chancerie, to whom I have freed myselfe of those aspersions which were falselie cast upon me, and they well satisfied in all things that they could expect; my humble suite is now, that your lordship would be pleased to putt them in minde to give a quick despatch to this my tedious suite in law, which unlesse you are pleased to forward their delay with three or four lines directed to them, and inclosed to me to deliver to them, I maie be seene to starve in expectation; for since the decree passed in court, whereby that cleeres that the estate of right belongs to me, yet possession was, nor is, not to be given untill the accounts are made upp, which as divers believe maie be verie tedious, they havinge procured another commission to examine new witnesses, though notwithstandinge the decree past, and with all my wive's greate favours from your familie, makes her give oute strange languages, that she hopes to have the disposall of the estate at hir owne pleasure; but I hope of better favours and justice, haveing spent a verie competent estate, and emploied your lordshipp's affections in the recoverie of an estate so infinitelie desparate. I shall not trouble you with anie complaints of a vicious wife, but in short let you know, I am most unhappie if ever she or hir sordid council prevaile, whereby (if not timelie prevented) they maye cause both our ruines by studdieing to act dishonourable things for me, and improvident for hir; I shall arme myselfe with patience, cravinge your favourable assistance in theis my troubles, hopeinge you will not suffer me to goe unworthilie or stained to my grave, and gull'd by a woman. I am timerous I have intrenched on your patience, wherefore I shall desire to take leave for the present, not forgettinge my prayers for your health and happines, soe long as I am able to subscribe myselfe,

London.
This 1st of Jan.
1650.

Your faithfull kinsman, and
Most humble servant,
J. Cromwell.

For his Excellencie the Lord Generall Cromwell, theis present.

From the original letters, &c., addressed to Oliver Cromwell, concerning the affairs of Great Britain, from 1649 to 1658, found among the political collections of the poet Milton, published by John Nicholl, junr., F.A.S., London, printed in 1748. Lond. fo.

CHANCERY REPORTS. Hil. 1652, fo. 427.

1652, 27 Jan. John Cromwell, Esq., and Abigail his wife, plaintiff, and John Awcocke and other, defendants. Forasmuch as this court was this present day informed by Mr. Churchill, being of the plaintiff counsel, that one Mr. Denny having been examined upon interrogatories touching a contempt laid to his charge, and the plaintiffs having examined witnesses to prove him in contempt, it is ordered that the defendants' examination and also the depositions of the witnesses be referred to Mr. Page, one of the Masters of this Court, to consider thereof and certify whether the said Denny hath committed the contempt laid to his charge, whereupon further order shall be taken as is meet.

SHELTON of Shelton.

Arms : Azure, a cross or, quartering the old coat of Shelton—Sable, three escallops, argent.
Crest : A Saracen's head, couped at the shoulders proper.
Supporters : Two talbots argent, collared or, the strings on their backs gules.
Motto : Gheure aut Thol.

NOTE.—The Sheltons of Shelton were an ancient and knightly family, who played their part in history, and at one time possessed considerable estates in Norfolk and Suffolk. Their pedigree does not appear in the Visitation of Norfolk; but it is deserving of record, especially as the home and estates of the Sheltons have long since passed into other hands, and the family itself is extinct in this and the adjoining county. The following pedigree is therefore inserted immediately after that of Clere,—the two families having intermarried. The early part is somewhat obscure and open to correction, but the rest has been compiled and enlarged from various sources.

And I desire to acknowledge the obligation I am under to the following gentlemen for so courteously favouring me with extracts from their parish registers:—

The Rev. Godfrey Bird, Illington Rectory, Norfolk.
The Rev. J. G. Brighten, Brome Rectory, Norfolk.
The Rev. F. E. Long, Woodton Rectory, Norfolk.
The Rev. A. W. Edwards, Barningham Rectory, Suffolk.
The Rev. Charles Rolfe, Benhall Vicarage, Suffolk.

A family of the same name was settled in Staffordshire, and one also in Ireland; but I have not been able to identify either of these with the Norfolk line, nor to trace their descent from it. Mr. Arthur J. Jewers, F.S.A., is, however, of opinion that the Staffordshire family came originally from Norfolk, and has permitted me to print the pedigree which he has supplied.—W. E. G. L. B.

Extract from Register.

"On Friday ye 6 of June, 1777, I Shelton Alexander, walked from Thelnetham Parsonage, to the Rev. Mr. Barnes's at Laken-Heath and back again the same evening of that day, which, by computation, is not reckoned less than 42 miles, and if measured I think would be little short of 45 miles. I do not boast of it any otherwise than it pleased God to give me health and strength (and a truly willing mind in the performance of it) at an age wherein I were in my grand climacterick year, and blessed be God for enabling me thus to boast. Amen."

"My errand to Mr. Barnes was to beg the favour of him to permit my sister Wilgress to lay down a gravestone over our dear father in the chancel, who was Rector of this Parish in 1709 to the year 1733. Had the favour granted—the mural mont. was fixed up 30 July, 1778."

Vol. iii.

Walter Lyhert, Bishop of Norwich, by his will dated May 13th, 1472, left 100 marks at the day of marriage to Margaret, dau. of Ralph Shelton and Joan his wife, deceased, and a like legacy to Elizabeth Shelton her sister.—P. 537.

Vol. iv.

In 1499 Lady Margaret, late wife of Sir Ralph Shelton, Knt., sent by Master Simon Dryver a gold chain of 25 SS., weighing nearly 8 ounces, to be put about the image of the Holy Trinity, in the chapel of St. Mary of Pity.

1484. Cicely, widow of Thomas Shelton, Gent., of Norwich, was buried by the tomb of her late husband, in the Gray Friars' Church.

The advowson of St. Catherine in Newgate, Norwich, passed with Carrow Abbey, by grant of Henry VIII. to Sir John Shelton, Knt.; but in 1561 a great contention arose between Ralph Shelton of Shelton, Esq., and John Bonde of Carrow, who had purchased it of Wodehouse, and obtained a lease of it in 1543 from Anne Shelton, widow of Sir John Shelton, and John her son and heir.

1473. Wm. Shelton of Norwich. Sir John Shelton, Knt., fitted up the parlour and hall of Carrow Abbey, at his coming to dwell there not long after the Dissolution.

Vol. v.

Sir Anthony Heveningham, a Knt. Banneret, married first Katherine, dau. and heir of Sir Philip Calthorpe, by Anne, dau. of ..... Eden of ....., Suffolk. In 1546 he settled by fine on himself and Mary his then wife, dau. of Sir John Shelton the elder of Shelton, Knt., the manors of Heveningham, Ubbeston, Cookeley, Walpole, and Sibeton in Suffolk; and in 1557 he held the manor of Westbarrow Hall of the honour of Ralegh in Essex, and died the following year, and was buried according to his will by his last wife. She remarried to Philip Appleyard, Esq.

In 1345 Sir Ralph Shelton was lord of Shelton manor; and in 1346 King Edward III. granted him letters patent, signifying that he was in the King's own company in the battle of Cressy, and there received the order of knighthood, the king pardoning him the contempt and penalty incurred for not taking that order upon him before, when His Majesty issued his proclamation that all those who had forty pounds a year in land, should take that order upon them. And the same year, on his marriage with Joan, daughter of Sir John de Plais, of Wetyng, he settled this and Bedingham manors on himself, his wife, and their issue. In 1355, on going beyond the sea with King Edward III., he had his letters of protection, and being in the battle of Poictiers, he took John Rocourt prisoner, for whom he obtained a safe conduct in 1355.

There was a grand antique mansion or manor-house here, in Shelton, built by Sir Ralph Shelton, in a square form, with an outside wall imbattled, and a turret at each corner. In the windows and ceilings were many coats of the matches of the Sheltons, but the whole is now ruinated. The demeans and park were sold to Sir Robert Houghton, Knt., Serjeant-at-law, and one of the Justices of the King's Bench.

This same Sir Ralph Shelton (who married Margaret Clere) also built the church; his name is expressed often in the windows, viz., Raf with an escalop shel and a tun, which cannot fail of making Sheltun.

1481. Master Archibald Davy, rector of Shelton, was licensed to solemnize matrimony between Sir Richard Fitz Lewis, Knt., and Elizabeth Shelton, and between John, son and heir of Thomas Heveningham, and Alice Shelton, in the Chapel of the Manor House of Sir Ralph Shelton, Knt., father of the said Elizabeth and Alice.

1508. Sir John Shelton, priest, presented to Shelton Rectory, whom I should have taken to be the Poet Laureat of that name, had it not been that this man died in 1523, and the Laureat lived to 1529.

1520. Richard Shelton, who died 1530, was elected Master of Raveningham College, and held the manor of Peter's Hall in Bunwell.

Maurice Shelton of Briningham, Suffolk, Esq., and now of Bury St. Edmund's, sold the manors of Overhall and Netherhall in Shelton, with the alternate right of presentation to the rectory, to John Howse of Norwich, Esq.

Vol. vii.

1538, 2 Nov. (30 Henry VIII.) King Henry the 8th, by letters patent, granted—on the dissolution of religious houses—to Sir John Shelton, Knt., of Shelton, the rectory and advowson of the vicarage of Stow Bardolph, and Sir John Shelton alienated it to John Hare of London, mercer, 26 Sept. 1547 (1 Edward VI.)

Vol. viii.

1528. Mr. Richard Shelton, Master of Raveningham College, had such skill in water works, that his advice was used in cutting Yarmouth Haven.

1487. King Henry VII'th granted to Sir Ralph Shelton the custody of the lands and marriage of Ralph Berney, brother and heir of Robert Berney, who died 1486.

1235-6, 20 Hen. III. John Shelton held a quarter of a fee of the heirs of Narfold, in the manor of Mountjoy Priory, Heverland; and 10 Edward II. there was an agreement between John, son of Sir John Shelton, Knt., and Robert his son, on one part. Nicholas, son of the said Sir John, and Alice his wife; Richard de Ely and Catherine his wife; the said John and Robert granting their manor to Nicholas and Alice for their lives, on condition of repairing the old, and building a new house 80 feet long and 18 feet broad, and paying them £30 sterling for thirteen years. To this deed is affixed the seal of John de Shelton—a fess between three mullets, pierced, and his name round.

23 Edward III. On the death of Sir Hugh le Burgulion, Sir Ralph Shelton of Shelton was found to be his cousin and heir, and John, son and heir of Sir John Shelton, who died December 21, 31 Hen. VIII. (1539), had livery of Burgulions Manor in Kerdestone.

Vol. ix.

30 Hen. VIII. (1538). At the dissolution, King Henry VIII. granted the impropriate Rectory of East Winch to Sir John Shelton.

1561, 15 Sept. (3 Eliz.) Lands called Walsingham, and other lands belonging to Langley Abbey in Rous Manor, Dunham Magna, were granted to Sir Edward Warner and Ralph Shelton.

Sir Ralph Shelton, Knt., who was killed at the Isle of Rhé in 1628, sold the lordship of Great Snoring, in 1611, to Thomas Richardson, Serjeant-at-law, afterwards Lord Chief Justice of the King's Bench.

Vol. x.

The family of Shelton, lords of Shelton, Norfolk, were, soon after the Survey, enfeoffed of the lordship of Walsingham Priory manor in Bedingham, and held it under the Bigots, Earls of Norfolk. In 1235, Robert, son of Ralph de Shelton, was lord; and in 1270, Henry de Shelton, and Robert was his son, who had a grant of free warren in this town in 1286; he was a knight, and died 34 Edward I., leaving by Isabel, his wife, John, his son and heir. Sir Ralph Shelton settled it in 1346, on his marriage with Joan, daughter of Sir John de Plais. It continued in this family till Sir John Shelton, 36 Henry VIII., conveyed it, by fine, to Thomas Hanchet.—P. 103.

1563, July 21 (5 Elizabeth). Belhouse Manor, in North Tudenham, was granted to Humphrey Shelton and Eds. Hunt.

Sir Ralph Shelton was lord and patron of Mundham, temp. Edward I., and John, his son and heir, presented to church of St. Peter's, in Mundham Magna.

Ralph Shelton of Brome, by deed dated August 18, 31st Elizabeth, settled this manor and advowson on himself for life, then to his three daughters and their heirs.

Vol. xi.

1556, Dec. (3 and 4 Philip and Mary). Rollesby Manor was granted to Ann Shelton for life, free from all rent, and the wood and underwood only excepted.

Extracts from Anne Boleyn: a Chapter of English History, 1527-1536, by Paul Friedmann, in two vols. 8vo. London, Macmillan, 1884.

Anne = Anne Boleyn.
Mary = The Princess who became Queen.
Henry = The King.

Vol. i. p. 267 (in chap. viii.) Dec., 1533. "At Hatfield, Mary was entrusted to the care of Lady Shelton, a sister of Anne's father. This lady, of course, did all she could to subdue what she considered the obstinacy of her ward, but she made no impression whatever; Mary held out."

Vol. i. pp. 271-2. Feby., 1534. "To the complaints of Anne, Henry replied that henceforward Mary should be more closely guarded; and we find that shortly afterwards the Duke of Norfolk and Lord Rochford upbraided Lady Shelton for her leniency and weakness, and ordered her to treat Mary more severely, as the bastard she was. Lady Shelton, who seems to have been a good woman, and to have pitied her unhappy ward, answered with much spirit that Mary was kind and gentle, and did not merit such harsh treatment. Anne was enraged at this insubordination of her aunt, and became even more indignant when she heard that some Essex peasants had assembled under Mary's balcony and cheered her, calling out that she was the rightful princess. It is said that Anne, after this display of loyal feeling, sent an order to Lady Shelton directing that Mary should be beaten if she persisted in calling herself princess, and that if she would not dine at the Common table she was to have nothing to eat at all.* But Mary was not beaten, and the king was charged the extravagant sum of ten shillings a week for the breakfast and supper, which were supplied to her in her room."†

Vol. ii. pp. 56, 57. A new favourite. Feb. 25, 1535. "The troubles of the Boleyns had been due, in a great measure, to the influence of the new favourite,‡ whose reign had now lasted nearly six months, for Henry rather a long time. It occurred to them that their prospects might be improved if the king were under the dominion of a more friendly beauty; and, in the hope that he might be fascinated, they brought to Court Anne's pretty cousin, Margaret Shelton, daughter of the governess of Mary. The scheme may not have been very dignified, but it was eminently successful. On the 25th of February, little more than three weeks after the ball at which Gontier had seen Anne in despair, Eustache Chapuis wrote:—'The lady who formerly enjoyed the favour of this king does so no longer; she has been succeeded in her office by a first cousin of the concubine, daughter of the new governess of the princess.' The defeat of the Imperialist favourite led to renewed agitation among the malcontents, for with the advent of Margaret Shelton disappeared the last hope that by means of female influence a reversal of policy might be obtained."

Vol. ii. p. 62. March, 1535. (Some thought Mary ought to be removed from England. "The chief difficulty would be to get her out of the house, which was strongly guarded by a body of royal servants, under the command of Sir John Shelton." "While Anne and her party—thanks to Margaret Shelton—seemed to be recovering their power, they were threatened with a new danger. Early in March Cromwell caught a severe cold, &c., &c."

‡ Who this was has never transpired. It was not Jane Seymour.

Vol. ii. p. 138. Henry thinks of discarding Anne. "Even to Margaret Shelton, who had so recently touched his fancy, he was already becoming indifferent."

Vol. ii. pp. 141-2. "Henry had also begun to talk in a rather ominous way. Mary having fallen ill, he went to Greenwich, where she was then staying; and in the presence of all the servants he loudly ordered Lady Shelton to tell her ward that she was his worst enemy, and that on her account he was on bad terms with most of the princes of Christendom. Chapuis* interpreted this message as an encouragement to those who might feel inclined to poison the princess. During the latter half of 1533, and during the whole of 1534, Chapuis credited Anne and her friends with the most infamous designs. For the protection of Mary against certain dangers, at which he occasionally hinted in his letters to the Emperor and to Granville and his son, he could trust only to the virtue and firmness of Mary herself. But for her protection against attempts to poison her he took active measures. For some time he wished that she should reside with her mother, but this was refused, and in the end it seemed to him best that they should not live together; for if Mary stayed with her mother, her enemies might poison her without exciting suspicion, whereas if she was with Lady Shelton they could not harm her without immediately causing a popular outcry. Having arrived at this conviction, Chapuis tried to help the princess by influencing her guardian. He sent Lady Shelton little presents with complimentary messages, but at the same time gave her to understand that she, herself, would be in the greatest danger if the princess died while entrusted to her charge. In the spring of 1535, Dr. Willm. Butt, the royal physician, was ordered to attend the princess; and he assisted the ambassador by telling Lady Shelton that it was commonly reported in London that she had poisoned Mary. The poor lady was not a little frightened, and whenever Mary was ill cried bitterly and was in the utmost anxiety."

Vol. ii. p. 196. Jany., 1536. "Mary was told, through Lady Shelton, that if she would act as a dutiful daughter towards the king, Anne would be to her a second mother..... But Anne had misunderstood Mary's character

* The Imperial Ambassador.

..... So when Lady Shelton besought her with tears to submit to the will of the king, Mary would give no other answer but that she wished to obey her father in everything that was not opposed to her honour and conscience."

Vol. ii. pp. 123, 124, 125. Oct., 1535. "On arriving at Eltham the ambassadors were shown into the presence of Elizabeth, but they were not allowed to see Mary ..... They were told that Mary had greatly wished to see them, but that Lady Shelton had shut her up in her room, and had caused all the windows to be nailed down .... About this matter the French ambassadors were not well-informed. The truth was, that as soon as they had manifested an intention to go to Eltham, instructions had been sent to Lady Shelton to prevent Mary from seeing or conversing with any of them; and Lady Shelton had immediately told the princess that she would have to keep her room while the ambassadors were there."

Vol. ii. p. 198. Jan., 1536. "Instead of promises, threats were now tried. Anne wrote to Lady Shelton that she was not to take any further trouble with that obstinate and undutiful girl. All that Anne had hitherto done had been out of charity and pity, and she was indifferent whether Mary submitted or not. She merely wanted to save Mary before she, herself, should give birth to a son, as she shortly expected to do. For after the birth of a prince, she well knew the King would not hesitate to punish Mary, and no mercy would be shown to her. This letter Lady Shelton, as if by chance, dropped in Mary's oratory; and the princess, finding it there, read it and took a copy of it, which she sent to Chapuis."*

* * * * * * *

"Anne was bitterly disappointed to find that the will which she had attempted to bend was as inflexible as her own ..... Almost her only hope now lay in the pregnancy to which she had alluded in her letter to Lady Shelton."

Vol. ii. pp. 249-250. April, 1536. "Another of Anne's friends was Henry

Noreys, also a gentleman of the King's Chamber, and the Keeper of his Privy Purse. Noreys had been for many years a favourite attendant of Henry. He had at once sided with Anne when she had begun her struggle; and he had been among the foremost of those who had worked the ruin of Wolsey. Ever since the death of the Cardinal, he had belonged to the little group of personal adherents of the Boleyns. He had married a daughter of Lord Dacres of the South; but having been for some time a widower, it had occurred to him that he would please both Henry and Anne if he took as his second wife pretty Margaret Shelton, who, although she had lost her hold on Henry's caprice, had remained at Court. So a marriage had been arranged between him and Mistress Margaret. But of late he had become somewhat cold, and Anne attributed his estrangement to jealousy, for she had observed that Sir Francis Weston had been paying rather marked attentions to her cousin. Accordingly, on the 23rd of April, she had some private talk with Sir Francis, and upbraided him for making love to Margaret and for not loving his wife. The young man, knowing how great was her appetite for flattery, answered that he loved some one in her house more than either his wife or Margaret Shelton. Anne eagerly asked who it was, and he replied, "it is yourself." She affected to be angry, and rebuked him for his boldness; but the reprimand cannot have been very terrible, for Weston continued his talk, and told her that Noreys also came to her chamber more for her sake than for that of Madge, as Margaret Shelton was called.*

Weston and Noreys were shortly after beheaded.

Blomefield's Norfolk, vol. ii. p. 552.

"Thomas Wodehouse, Esq., eldest son of Sir Roger, was never knighted. 1st Philip and Mary he was High Sheriff of Norfolk and Suffolk, which office he served again 5 Elizabeth. He was Burgess in Parliament for the Burgh of Yarmouth in Norfolk; was in favour with Henry VIII., whom he faithfully served to his death, afterwards being retained in the service of Edward VI.; he was one of those valiant gentlemen that went against the Scots, being Standard Bearer in the battle of Muselborough, in which he was slain, on Saturday, 10 Sept., 1547; his father, Sir Roger, being then alive."

"This Thomas ne're was Knight, but yet was one
That deserved to be, and had been, if not slain,
In noble service, gainst the Scots, where he
Was Standard Bearer; whom to gratifie
The King his widow gave the special grace
Of Lady Hood, in title and in place.
The Shelton Coat both fair and ancient was,
In azure field is set, a golden cross."

She was Margaret, daughter of Sir John Shelton of Shelton, Knt.

1427, 8 Nov. (6 Henry VI.) No. 73.

Writ to the Escheator of Norfolk. Recites that John, son and heir of William Shelton, Esquire, deceased, claims to be of full age, and seeks admittance to his lands, etc., which are in the custody of Simon Baret, Clerk, and Richard Baret, by demise of Edmund Wynter and Richard Elswick. Wherefore we will, etc. That John was born at Hecham in the said county, and was baptised in the church of that town as is said. Dated 8 November, 6 Henry VI.

Inquisition taken at Reedham before Henry Drury, Escheator of Norfolk, 20 March, 6 Henry VI., upon proof of age of John Shelton, son and heir of William Shelton, Esquire, by the oaths of twelve jurors, viz. :—

Henry Berney, aged 60 years, says that John Shelton was born at Hecham, on Sunday next before the feast of the translation of St. Thomas the Martyr (July 7), 7 Henry IV., 1406, and was baptised in the church of St. Mary of Hecham on the same Sunday. Asked, etc.; says that he was in the church on the same day, and saw him washed at the holy font, wherefore he well knows that he was aged 21 at the feast of St. Thomas the Martyr last past.

Edward Wylbey, aged 58 years. Asked, etc.; says that he held a burning wax candle at the baptism of the said John Shelton.

John Molots, aged 56 years. Asked, etc.; says that on the same day he went for one John Inglesthorp, Knight, at Walsyngham, to be the "compater" of the said John.

John Dawes, aged 50 years. Asked, etc.; says that he went for one Simon Barit, Clerk, to be another "compater" of the said John Shelton.

John Wesenham, aged 57 years. Asked, etc.; says that he went to Norton for Joan, wife of William Gerbregge, Esquire, to be "commatur" of the said John Shelton.

William Wroxham, aged 49 years. Asked, etc.; says, that on the same day, John, brother of the said William Wroxham, was buried in the churchyard of the said church of Hecham.

John Hyche, aged 45 years. Asked, etc.; says that on the same day, Alice, daughter of the same John Hych, was espoused to one Thomas Netherstrete, in the church of Hecham aforesaid.

William Hunte, aged 56 years. Asked, etc.; says that on the same day, the said William Hunte broke his right arm (ulnam) at Hecham.

Thomas Roo, aged 45 years. Asked, etc.; says that on the same day a certain Alice Frebern, of Fakenham, his "cognata," was buried at Fakenham.

John Farwell, aged 62 years. Asked, etc.; says that on the same day Agnes, wife of the same John Farwell, was churched (purificata) in the church of Hecham aforesaid, after the birth of John, his son, between the said John Freborn (sic) and Agnes . . . .

Ric. Calbrat? aged 50 years. Asked, etc.; says that on the same day one Thomas Dowe died at Bryston.

Ralph Smith, aged 51 years. Asked, etc.; says that on the same day he was at the leet of John [Proffe!] of Walsingham, held at Walsingham aforesaid.

Wherefore the jurors aforesaid say that the said John Shelton is of full age. Dated at Reedham, etc.

That the said manor is held of William Phepp, Knight, as of his manor of Cantele, service unknown. That it is worth in all outgoings beyond reprise 100*s*. That said John Shelton died on Monday next before the feast of St. George the Martyr last past (23 April.) That Ralph, his son, is his next heir, and aged quarter of a year.

3. Writ of melius inquirendum to Escheator of Norfolk, 30th August, 9 Henry VI.

4. Inquisition taken at Trous, in the county of Norfolk, on Thursday next after the feast of St. Faith the Virgin, 10 Henry VI., before, etc., who say, etc.—That Ralph Shelton, Knight, lately was seized of the manor of Shelton called Overhall and Netherhall, of the manor of Thersford, and 5*s*. of rent, with the appurtenances in Hyndringham, as is specified in an inquisition in the chancery of the manor of Snoryng Magna, and gave all the said manors, etc., by his charter to Thomas Erpingham, Knight; Olivir Groos, Esq.; James Walsyngham, clerk; and John Lynford, of Stalham, to the use of the last will of the said Ralph until William Shelton, son and heir of the said Ralph, after the death of the said Ralph, unjustly disseised them, and thereof infeoffed John Howard, Edward Berry, Roger Drury, John Berney of Great Wychingham, Edward Bedyngfeld, Thomas Lovell, Ralph Midelton, Simon Baret, John Irmynglond, Thomas Frynge, William Narburgh, William Daubeney, Richard Baret, William Lexham, and John Weythe, to the said William, which John Howard, Edward Berry, etc., enfeoffed said William Shelton and Katherine his wife for the term of his life, and afterwards the said William Shelton and Thomas Erpyngham died, after whose death said Oliver, James, and John Lynford re-entered, and according to the form of the will of the said Ralph . . . . John Shelton, cousin and heir of the said Ralph, viz., son of the said William Shelton, son of the said Ralph, by their charter, shown to the jurors in these words—"Know, etc., that "we, Oliver Gross, Esq.; James Walsyngham, clerk; and John Lynford of "Stalham, according to the last will of Ralph Shelton, knight, have demised, "etc., to John Shelton, son and heir of William Shelton, son and heir of the "said Ralph Shelton, Knight, all manors, lands, etc., with the appurtenances "in Shelton, Snoryng Magna, Snorying Parva, Thursford, Hyndryngham, "Berney, Ketilston, Tatersete, Felbryg, and Rowton, which we lately had "jointly with Thomas Erpyngham, Knight, deceased, by the gift of the said "Ralph; to have and to hold to the said John in tail male, remainder to "Thomas, brother of John, son of William, in tail male; remainder to "William, brother of Thomas, in tail male; remainder to Simon, brother of "William, in tail male; remainder to Alice, now wife of John Alderford, "daughter of the said Ralph; remainder to right heirs of Ralph. In witness, "etc., 10th June, 9 Henry VI." (1431.) That said John was seized of the said manors by virtue of the said feoffment. That the manors of Thersford and Snorying are held of William Phipp, Knight, as of his manor of Santele. That the manor of Thersford is held by the service of half a knight's fee, and the manor of Snorying by the service of one knight's fee. And the manor of Thursford is worth 34*s.*, and that the five solidates of rent in Hyndryngham are held of the King as of his Honor of Wyringey, and are worth 5*s.*, and that the manor of Shelton Overhall is worth 14*s.*, and the manor of Shelton Neatherhall, 100*s.* But of whom the said manors are held they know not. That the said John died on Monday next after the feast of St. George the Martyr last past, and that the said Ralph, his son, is his heir, and of the age of 44 weeks, and that the said Katherine has occupied the said manors and received the rents, etc., by virtue of the enfeoffment to her and her late husband.

5. Writ to the Escheator of Suffolk on the death of John Shelton, Esquire, dated 1st April, 9 Henry VI.

6. Inquisition taken at Blyburgh, in the county of Suffolk, on the last day of June, 9 Henry VI., before, etc., who say, etc.—That the said John Shelton held on the day on which he died the manor of Brend Illy, but whether any fee simple or any fee tail the jurors know not. That in the same manor are 100 acres of land, each of which is worth per annum 6*d.*; also 100 solidates of rent of assize; also 20 acres of meadow, of which one acre is worth 2*d.*; also 40 acres of wood, one acre is worth 8*d.*; also one court, worth beyond steward's fee nothing; also the site of the manor, which is worth nothing. That the manor is held of the king, as of his Honor of Elyon: but whether that honor is parcel of the crown or not the jurors know not. That the said John Shelton died on Monday next before the feast of St. George the Martyr last past. That Ralph, his son, is his heir, and of the age of a quarter of a year.

7. Assignment of dower of Margaret, who was the wife of John Shelton, Esquire, deceased, of the lands and tenements which were of the aforesaid John on the day on which he died, in the manors of Great Snoryng and Shelton, in the county of Norfolk, made by Henry Gray, Eschaetor, on the 20th of June, 10 Henry VI., by virtue of a writ directed to him in these words—"Writ of dower dated 26 November, 10 Henry VI., recited assignment made by Jeffrey Snoryng, etc." [After this are set out the parcels in great detail.]

1498, 26 Oct. (13, 14 Henry VII.) M. 4.

Inquisition taken at Garbolsham, Norfolk, 26 October, 14 Henry VII., before Philip Tylney, Esq., Escheator, on writ de diem clausit . . . . who say that one Thomas Bekles and William Kyng, clerks, were seized in demesne as of fee in the manor of Shelton, called . . . . . and North Hall . . . . . The manor of Thursford with the advowson of Thursford, the manor of Burghouse, the manor of Bedingham called Shelton Hall, with the advowson of the church of Shelton, and so seized, enfeoffed the said Ralph Shelton by the name of Ralph Shelton, Esquire, and Margaret his wife, by the name of Margaret, daughter of Robert Clere, Esq. To have and to hold to said Ralph and Margaret, and heirs of Ralph, for ever, by virtue of which said Ralph and Margaret were seized, etc. The jurors also say that one Walter Lyhert, late Bishop of Norwich, was seized of the manor of Snoring Magna, with advowson of same, and enfeoffed said Thomas Bekles thereof and William Kyng. To hold for fulfilling the last will of the said Ralph Shelton. The jurors say that Thomas Brewes, Knight, John Jenney, William Tebald, and Henry Bumpstede, were seized of a tenement called Semious, etc., in the towns of Fritton-hemenhale, Shelton, and Mornyngthorpe, in their demesne, as of fee, and enfeoffed Richard Goodwin, William Passelowe, and Thomas . . . . . to the use of . . . . . for fulfilling the last will of the said Ralph Shelton. The said William survived. They say that one John Goodwyn, of Bungay, was seized of certain tenements in Freton, in their demesne as of fee, and granted to Thomas Bekles and William King, clerks, Thomas Banning†, and William Passelowe, to the use of the said Ralph Shelton. They say that said Ralph was also seized of the manor of Osmundeston and the advowson of the church in demesne as of fee, and granted same to William, at . . . . . Thomas Brewes, William Alyngton, William Rokewode, Robert Heveningham, Esquires; John Fyncham, John Lamelyn, John Eyre, and John Lopham, to hold for fulfilling his last will. That John was seized of the manor of Thorpe Hall, in Mornyngthorpe, and thereof enfeoffed Ralph Shelton, Thomas Brewes, Robert Wingfield, knights; Gilbert Debenham, Esquire; Richard Southwell, Thomas Tasburgh, Hugh Bokenham, Esquires; and Ralph Toppfield, Esquire; and E. Gross, to the use of the said Ralph Shelton . . . . . Ralph Shelton died 16 . . . . . of July last. That John Shelton is his son and next heir, and was of the age of 20 at the feast of the Purification of the Virgin Mary last past!

The latter part of this inquisition is very much worn, and would take a considerable time to decipher. Some parts of it are absolutely illegible.

NOTES.

12 Hen. IV. Elizabeth, daughter of John Winter, Esq., of Town Barningham, Norfolk, and Knight of the Shire in 1409, by Elizabeth his wife, dau. and coh. of Wm. de Hethersett, released to Simon de Felbrigge all her right in the Manor of Chepenhall and land in Fressingfield, Suffolk.—Page's Suffolk, p. 392.

5 Hen. VIII. Sir Thomas Robyn had land in Stiffkey, and 12 May, 17 Hen. VIII. (1525) a feoffment was made from Thomas Hodson, parson of Cockthorpe, to Henry Winter and Dorothy, his wife, and their heirs, with a remainder unto the heirs of Edmond Winter and Alice his wife, of the Manor of Curlue Knights in Stiffkey with the appurtenances, which he had of the feoffment of Henry Winter, on the 6th of May in the same year.

20 Hen. VIII. Henry Winter bargains and sells unto Ralphe Symonds and his heirs, 95 acres of land, parcel of the above lordship.—Collectanea Topog. et Genealog., vol. vii. p. 206.

1585. Katherine, wife of John Winter, and daughter of Philip Bedingfeld, is by some authorities said to have married first John Winter, who died 1558, and secondly Edmond Beaupré, who died 1568. And by others to have been first the wife of Edmond Beaupré and afterwards of John Winter. But neither of these statements agree with the dates of their respective deaths, nor with the fact that in her will dated 1585, she is called Katherine Winter of Southacre, widow, and desires to be buried at Outwell, near her brother Bedingfeld. Henry Bedingfeld was Rector of Upwell and Outwell, and died 1582.—W.E.G.L.B.

1599, 18 Dec. (42 Eliz.) At the Court Baron of Sir Edward Wynter, Knt., for the Manor of King's Weston, co. Gloucestershire, the lord, through John Morgan, Gent., grants to John Smyth, son of John Smyth of Ebberton, the reversion of a messuage and four virgals of land (meadows and pastures) on payment of an annual rent of 39*s.* 6*d.* Signed, Edward Wynter.—From Evidence Room, Heydon.

1711, 16 Oct. Mary Parlet surrendered to use of Mordecai Winter in Downham.—From Court Roll of Newhall Manor in Marham, G. H. D.

CALTHORPE.

The early part of the Calthorpe Pedigree is involved in some confusion, which apparently has puzzled even such learned genealogists as Le Neve, Norris, and Blomefield; but the late Rev. James Lee Warner, in his interesting and valuable account of this family, published in Vol. IX. of Norfolk Archæology, has cleared away many of these difficulties. The following descent of the Antingham branch is carried down to the present representative in the female line, "Thomas Calthorpe Blofeld, Esq.," to whom I am indebted for much information.

INQUISITIONS POST MORTEM.

[Chancery, 1 Eliz., No. 125.]

1559, July. Writ of diem clausit [date gone.]

Inquisition taken July, 1 Elizabeth, 1559, on death of James Calthorpe.

[This inquisition is in bad condition. Apparently it contains much the same matter as regards estates, as does the one of Christopher his son. Though a large portion of it might be recovered with a diligent study, yet considerable time would be occupied in deciphering it. The date of James Calthorpe's death could not be discovered, but his son Christopher was found to be aged 27 years.]

[Chancery, 4 Eliz., No. 71.]

1562, 22 June. Writ of diem clausit, dated 1 May, 4 Eliz. (1562.)

Inquisition delivered into court 3 July, by Edward Wiseman, Gent.

Inquisition, dated 22 June, 4 Eliz., after the death of Christopher Calthorpe, Esq.

The jurors say that he was seized of the manor and advowson of Cockthorpe, and lands in Cockthorpe, Bynham, Langham, and Styfkey, late belonging to James Calthorpe (the father of the said Christopher), who, by deed of 28 Aug., 1 Eliz., (1559) granted the premises to Martin Hastings, ... Bartram Calthorpe, gent., Wm. Bromwich, clerk, in trust for said Christopher and Joan his wife.

That Christopher Calthorpe (grandfather of Christopher) and Alienor his wife, were seized (jure uxoris) of Sterston, and premises there in Harleston, Pulham, Needham, and Redenhall, and settled same, by deed of 14 June, 20 Henry VIII., between Robert Garneis of Kenton, Suffolk; . . . . . Garneis, son and heir of Robert Garneis; Christopher Calthorp of Cockthorpe; the grandfather of Christopher Calthorpe and Alienor, and James Calthorpe the father, being the marriage settlement of James Calthorpe with Elizabeth Garneis, dau. of Robert Garneis.

That Wm. Paston, Kt., Edward Bedingfield, Kt., Christopher Heydon, Kt., Philip Calthorpe, Esq., Thos. Le Strange, Esq., Wm. Drury, Esq., Roger Woodhouse, Esq., Robert Holdich, Esq., Christopher Jenney, Esq., John Asteley, and John Garneis levied a fine of Sterston, etc. Christopher and Alienor (his grandparents) died, and James Calthorpe became seized thereof.

That Elizth. [wife of James Calthorpe] survived, and was seized of Sterston, with remainders over.

That Christopher Calthorpe made his will [here recited in English], dated 28 Sept., 1560, Jane his wife being with child.

That James Calthorpe was seized of Snetterley, etc., and by his deed of 5 June, 3 & 4 Ph. & M., granted the premises to William Powle, Clerk, in trust for Christopher, son of James and Jane (wife of Christopher).

Said James Calthorpe died, and the premises descended to Christopher and Jane.

Said Christopher died and Jane survives at Cockthorpe.

James Calthorpe, the father, was seized of Netherhall, Stiffkey, etc., and by deed of 23 Sept., 3 & 4 Ph. & M., granted the same to Philip Mordaunt and Martin Hastings in trust for James Calthorpe, remainder to Thos. Calthorpe and John Calthorpe, remainder to Christopher (Thos., John, and Chr. were brothers).

Thos. and John now live at Stiffkey, seized of premises in Stiffkey, late of John Banyard, gent.

James Calthorpe was also seized of premises at Snetterly, and made his will 24 Aug., 5 & 6 Ph. & M.

James Calthorpe is son and heir of Christopher, and is aged 5 years.

[Chancery, 10 Elizth., No. 63.]

1567, 22 Dec. Writ of melius inquirendum, dated 22 March, 9 Elizth.

Inquisition after death of Christopher Calthorpe, Esq., taken at Cromer, 22 December, 10 Elizth. (1567).

Jury say that the manor of Cockthorpe and premises in Cockthorpe, Bynham, and Styffkey were held of the Queen as of her honor of (Wormegay ?) at a quarter of a knight's fee; worth 20 mrks.

Messuages in Snitterly, also Blackney [Blakeney], are held of Wm. Butts, Knt., as of the manor of Thornage in socage; worth 20s.

Sterston, etc., is held of the Duke of Norfolk, as of the manor of Forncett, as a knight's fee, and is worth £20.

INQUISITIONS POST MORTEM (continued).

Premises in Snitterly, etc., are held of the Queen as of the possessions of the late Bishopric of Norwich: as a quarter knight's fee.

That Christopher Calthorpe died at Cockthorpe, 11 April, 1562. James Calthorpe is his son and heir, and was aged 5 years and more.

Jeremy Bowes and Joan his wife, late wife of Christopher Calthorpe, have occupied the premises (except Streston, etc.) from the death, and have taken the profits.

Elizabeth Calthorpe, now deceased, occupied the manor of Sterston; she died at Lynne . . . . . day of . . . . . .

[Chancery, 17 Elizth., No. 110.]

1575, 21 Sept. Inquisition taken at Holt Market, 21 Sept., 17 Elizth. (1575).

That Christopher Calthorpe was seized of a messuage in Cockthorpe, formerly belonging to Oliver Calthorpe, and also of premises in Netherhall and Stiffkey.

That the first-named premises are held of the manor of Netherhall, and the latter of the Queen in chief. They are worth 6*s.* 8*d.*

NOTE.

Amongst the jurors appears the name of "Richard Buller, gent.," and appended is a good signature of "Richard Bulwer."

This inquisition post mortem was evidently taken in pursuance of a writ of melius inquirendum.

[Chancery, 18 Elizth., No. 52.]

1575, 19 Dec. Writ of melius inquirendum, dated 19 Dec., 18 Elizth. (1575), on Christopher Calthropp, Esq., directing jury to ascertain date and place of death of Jeremy Bowes, Knt., and Edward Devereux, Knt.

The inquisition mentions additional property lately Oliver Calthroppe's, but does not answer the specific inquiry ordered. [Richard Bulwer's signature appears in this inquisition also.] 1590, 14 July. Writ of diem clausit extremum on death of Martin Calthroppe, Knt. (32 Elizabeth).

Inquisition post mortem delivered into court 14 May, 36 Elizth. Taken at Swaffham last of July, 32 Elizth. The jury say that Martin Calthroppe, Kt., was seized of the manors of Hickling, Netherhall, Stannow, Pawlinge, Stalham, Linfords, and Weildes; also of a capital messuage, etc., part of the dissolved Priory of Hickling, the rectory, vicarage, and tithes of Hickling, and lands, etc., in Wactonesham (Waxham), Eccles, Brunsted, Stalham, Sutton, Catfield, Horsey, and Smallboroughe, and being so seized, by indenture dated 2 May, 31 Elizth., made between him, as Martin Calthroppe of London, Knt. (1), and Thomas Aldersey of London, Esq., and Anthony Calthorpe, citizen and mercer of London (2). [The inquisition then recites the deed in terms similar to the inquisition of Martin Calthorpe of 13 Aug., 14 James.]

That the said premises were held of the Queen in chief by knight service, and are worth £53. 6*s.* 8*d.*, wheerof the premises in the possession of Martin Calthroppe, the son, are worth £18. 6*s.* 8*d.*, and those in the possession of dame Joan Calthroppe are worth £35.

Martin Calthorpe, Knt., died 3 May, 31 Elizth., and that since then Dame Joan and Martin the son have taken the receipts.

That Martin Calthorpe the son is son and heir of Martin Calthorpe, and at his father's death was aged fully 30 years and more.—Chancery Inquisition Post Mortem, part ii., No. 74.

[Chancery, 13 James I. No. 140.]

1615, 3 July. Writ dated 3 July, 13 James (1615).

Inquisition post mortem of James Calthrope, Knight, dated 26 March, 14 James (1616). James Calthrope, Knt., died at Starston 15 June, 12 James (1614). Christopher Calthorpe is his son and heir, and is aged 30 years Barbara, wife of James Calthorpe, Knight, survives at Cockthorpe.

1616, 13 Feb. Writ of diem clausit extremum on death of Martin Calthorpe, Esq., dated 13 James I.

Inquisition post mortem taken at Norwich Castle, 13 Aug., 14 James (1616). The jury say that Martin Calthorpe, late of London, Knt., deceased, was seized of the manors of Hickling Netherhall, Paulinge, Stalham Lynfordes and Weildes, in co. Norfolk; and of one capital messuage in Hickling, late parcel of Hickling Priory; of the rectory, vicarage, and tithes of Hickling, and divers lands, etc., in Hickling, Pawling, Waxtonnessam, Eccles, Brunsted, Stalham, Sutton, Catfield, Horsey, and Smallborough, in co. Norfolk, late parcel of the Priory of Hickling.

That the said Martin Calthorpe by deed of 2 May, 31 Eliz., made between him as Martin Calthorpe of London, Knt., (1), Thomas Aldersey of London, Esq., and Anthony Calthorp of London, citizen and mercer (2), in consideration of the marriage between him, the said Martin Calthorpe, and Dame Joan his wife, for her jointure and for his love to his sons, "amicalibus et naturalibus," and for establishing the lands in the name and blood of the Calthorpes, assigned the premises to the said Aldersey and Calthorpe (as trustees) upon the following uses:—

To his own use for life. Remainder to Martin Calthorpe, his son and heir. Remainder to Martin Calthorpe, junior, son of Martin Calthorpe, the son of Martin Calthorpe, Knight. Remainder to the heirs of Martin Calthorpe, junior, etc. Remainder to Francis Calthorpe, second son of Martin Calthorpe, son of Martin Calthorpe, Knt., with like remainders to his third and fourth sons. Remainder to John Calthorp, second son of Martin Calthorp, Knt., with like remainders. Remainder to Richard Calthorp, third son of Martin Calthorp, Knt. Remainder to Anne, wife of Thomas Payton, Esq., and Judeth, wife of Martin Barnham, Esq., daughters of Martin Calthorp, Knt. Remainder to the right heirs of Martin Calthorp, Knt.

That he was also seized of the manors and lordships of Hickling Netherhall, and Stannowe; and of the capital messuage in Hickling, and of all the messuages, lands, etc., in the fields of Hickling, Pawlinge, Waxtonnessam, Eccles, Horsey, Sutton, Catfield, and Stalham; and of the rectory, vicarage, and tithes of each kind. All which he, the said Martin Calthorp, Knt., was in possession for the term of his life, with remainder to Joan, then his wife, in lieu of dower. Remainder to Martin Calthorpe, his son and heir apparent. Remainder to the eldest son of the said Martin Calthorpe, and so forth. Remainder to Francis Calthorpe, second son of the said Martin Calthorpe (the son) for life, with similar remainders. Remainder to John Calthorp, second son of Martin Calthorp, Knt., with like remainders. Remainder to Richard Calthorp, third son of Martin Calthorp, Knt., with like remainders. Remainder to Anne, wife of Thomas Peyton, Esq., and Judith, wife of said Martin Barnham, Esq. Remainder to the right heirs of Martin Calthorp. Also reciting statute of uses and consequent seizin of Martin Calthorpe. Also his death, and that Dame Joan entered on the Manor of Hickling and manors, and she died seized thereof. Also entry of Martin Calthorpe, the son, and he being so seized with Martin Calthorpe, the grandson, by indenture of 14 January, 2 James, as Martin Calthorpe of London, Esq., and Martin Calthorpe, gent., his son and heir apparent (1), and Thomas Scambler of Brunsted (2), and by virtue of an act of first session of 1 James, being "an act for the jointure of Martin Calthorpe, gent.", conveyed to said T. Scambler all the houses, etc., on the site of the late Priory of Hickling [which premises in inquisition are set out in great detail], to hold the same according to the said indenture and act, and thereof he is now seized.

That the said Martin Calthorpe being seized of the other premises by indenture of 8 January, 2 James, between said Martin Calthorpe, the son, and Martin Calthorpe, the grandson (1), and Thos. Scambler of Nitshed (Neatishead), and Thomas Clipwell of Somerton, gent., conveyed to T. Scambler and T. Clipwell certain lands in Sutton and Hickling upon the terms in the said indenture and act.

That being seized of other premises, residue thereof, by indenture of 20 September, 6 James, the said Martin Calthorpe (son) and Martin Calthorpe (grandson) (1), and Elizabeth Richers, one of the daughters of John Richers of Swannington (2), and the said John Richers, Esq. (3), by virtue of the said act [here recited], by which power was given to make a jointure for the said Martin Calthorpe, junior, and in consideration of the marriage intended between Martin Calthorpe and Elizabeth Richers, he limited unto the said Elizabeth Richers the manor-house of Netherhall in Hickling, etc. [the parcels being set out in the inquisition in detail], to hold the same unto the said Elizabeth Richers, after the marriage, for life. That the said marriage was solemnized, and the said Elizabeth Richers entered and was seized thereof.

That Martin Calthorpe being seized of the residue died, and Martin Calthorpe, the grandson, entered, and is now seized thereof in fee.

That the manors of Hickling, Linford, and Wildes; and the rectory and vicarage of Hickling, and other the premises, at the death of Martin Calthorpe, Esq., were held of the King in chief by knight service. That the premises are worth £53. 6*s*. 8*d*., and that the premises in the tenure of Martin Calthorpe, the son, are worth £13. 6*s*. 8*d*.

That Martin Calthorpe died the —— of Dec., 13 James (1615). That Martin Calthorpe has taken the rents and profits from that day, and that he is the son and heir, and is of the full age of 30 years and more.

1625, 19 April (1 Car. I.) Inquisition taken at Thetford on the death of Christopher Calthorpe. The jurors say that he was seized, inter alia, of 40 acres of salt marsh in Blakeney and Cley, and 200 acres of salt marsh and shingle in Cley; and further the jurors say that "Domina Barbara Calthorpe," widow, late wife of Sir James Calthorpe of Cockthorpe, Knt., deceased, by virtue of a certain conveyance made between the same James Calthorpe on the one part and John Thurton de Brome, in the forty-fourth year of Queen Elizabeth, on the other part, was seized, and still is seized, during the life of the aforesaid Barbara Calthorpe, of the manor of Cockthorpe, with remainder to the aforesaid Christopher Calthorpe and his heirs male; and they further say that the aforesaid Christopher Calthorpe was living and so seized on the 14 March last, and died so seized before the taking of this inquisition; and that James Calthorpe was his son and heir, and at the time of the said Christopher's death was under the age of 21 years, namely of the age of 20 years, 11 months, and 2 days, and that Barbara was still living.

My honoured father Mr. Edward Cole;—my dear brother Mr. William Cole;—my sisters Abigail and Susan Cole;—to my honoured nephew Mr. Le Strange Mordaunt, my silver pot and silver ink horne;—to my cozens Edward and John Calthorpe, sons of my brother Edward, £5 each;—my cozen Mary, daughter of Edward Calthorpe, £10;—to my said cozen Edward Calthorpe my silver tankard;—to my said cozen John Calthorpe my silver seale;—to my cozen Lamb's three children which she had by Mr. Rule, 40*s.* each;—my godson Charles Talbot;—my godson (sic) Elizabeth Seamon;—to my sisters Mary and Barbara Mordaunt;—to my dear honoured mother. My sister Hannah Cole to be sole executrix; and names also in a codicil "my godson Richard Harris."—Proved (Cur. Ep. Norw.) 12th June, 1683.

1693, 18 May. Dorothy Calthorp (no description given). My six brothers to be executors, viz., James Calthorpe, Christopher Calthorpe, Reynolds Calthorpe, brother Nicholas, brother Trumball, and brother Low;—almshouses to be handsomely built at Ampton Green (where I was born) for widows or aged maidens, half from Norfolk and half from Suffolk; houses to have handsome chimneys, &c., &c. (very particular and minute directions), and on a square stone to be cut "Dorothy Calthorpe has paid her vow to the Great God that sent her into the world for this purpose"; the tiles to be brought from Woolpitt;—£500 to Bury St. Edmund's, where I once lived;—poor of Ampton, Ingham, and Timworth;—£50 for a handsome monument in Ampton Church, right against my uncle Whitell's in the chancel, because I suppose my brother will put up his right against my grandfather's; let a black marble ovall arch be fixed in the wall, and a white marble statue kneeling before a marble table with a book open upon it, and an hour glass and a death's head standing on it, and a little tapour, and what inscription at the bottom you please;—a marble stone of ten pounds to be laid on my grave with my coat of arms upon it and my name, and this:—

"I troubled no man's dust, Lett others be to me as just."

Brother James Calthorpe;—brother Christopher Calthorpe and his wife;—brother Reynolds Calthorpe to have my mother's picture and Sir Algernon's picture;—Lady Knights;—sister Harvye;—"my father's and grandfather's pictures to my brother Nicholas, and he to pass them to his son and never to go out of the family";—nephew Neddy Nicholas;—niece Isabella Harvey king Charles' picture set in gold;—niece Dorothy Harvey;—cousin Haddon;—nephew Calthorpe Harvey;—brother Trumball to have his wife's picture which I have drawn in "cryants";—cousin Sitwell;—a bason of £10 price, to be given to Ampton Church to christen children with, and stand on the communion table on sacramental days, and gather the offerings in;—Mr. Jewings. (A very long curious will; immense lot of pictures, jewels, &c., minutely described. —Proved (P. C. C.) 14*th Nov.*, 1693. Fol. 179.

To be buried in the chancel of West Barsham, between the graves of Sir L'Estrange Calthorpe my husband and L'Estrange Calthorpe our son. To my daughter Barbara Higham;—to my daughter Mary Shalcross;—to my granddaughter Elizabeth Calthorpe, my son James Calthorpe's only daughter;—to my neice Clarke (Mrs. Sarah Clarke);—to my cozen James Calthorpe, Sir Christopher's brother;—to my cozen John Wilson the father;—to my cozen Wace, Rector of Blakeney, and to my cozen Elizabeth his wife;—testatrix's mother and brother, Sir Edward Turner, buried at Little Parndon, Essex. An unjust suit with D. Morley referred to in the will.—Proved (Cur. Ep. Norw.) 22*nd August*, 1712.

1713, 1 August. Elizabeth Calthorp of St. Margaret's, Westminster. Recites reversions (property not specified) after death of my mother Elizabeth Morley, wife of Dr. Morley; aunt Higham, wife of Clement Higham, divine; and aunt Shallcross. Legatee and executor, Edmund Marsdin Taylor of St. Martin's in the Field, and do, as I think myself in gratitude bound, acknowledge that I think the little I have to depend upon but a small return to him for kindnesses I have received, having been wrongfully persecuted in lawsuits by my own mother for several years, and not had bread to eat nor clothes to cover me but what in charity I have received at his hands. Witnesses, John Barber, Mary Houlton, and Martha Swann.—Proved (P. C. C.) by Edmund Marsdin the executor, 21*st October*, 1717. Whitfield, 187.

1715, 7 October. Edward Calthrope of Burgh St. Peter. To my loving wife Alice all my house and lands for life, and after her decease to my kinsman John Calthrope, the son of my brother John, to be sold for payment of debts. Legacies to Anne Baxter of Beccles;—Mary Calthrope my kinswoman;—Elizabeth Semons wife of John Semons;—Edward Calthrope son of John;—Catherine Calthrope daughter of John. Signed by a mark X.—Proved (Cur. Ep. Norw.) 13*th June*, 1719.

1716, 7 Nov. James Calthorpe of Wissingsett, Esq. To be buried in church of East Barsham. To the poor of East Barsham, £5;—to the poor of West Barsham, £5;—Lands in Wissengsett to brother Sir Christopher Calthorpe, K.B., subject to an annuity of £8 to servant Thos. Chaplaine;—to niece Mrs. Elizabeth Calthorpe, 45 acres of copyhold land in Fakenham;—to niece Mrs. Katherine Calthorpe, £250;—to niece and god-dau. Mrs. Anne Calthorpe, £300;—to the Right Hon. PEDIGREES FROM THE PLEA ROLLS.—Genealogist, vol. x. p. 91.

Coram Rege. Hillary, 16 Edw. III., M. 114.

Norfolk.

William de Calthorpe, chivaler, sued John Bygot and Alesia his wife and others, for the manor of Uppehall, and he gave this descent:—Wm. de Calthorp, temp. Hen. III., grandfather of the plaintiff, William de Calthrop, who had a son Walter who married Alesia, niece of John de Hotham, Bishop of Ely, and died s. p. She married, secondly, John Bygot.

It appears from the pleadings that in the will of Calthorp there were two manors called Kybaldhall and Uppehall; and Kybaldhall was called the manor of Calthorp, and was held of the Honor of Gloucester, and had been held, from time out of memory, by the ancestors of William de Calthorp. The manor of Uppehall was held of the Abbot of St. Benedict of Hulm.

Thomas Pigeon, Gent., by grant from Sir Thos. Lovell, presented to the Rectory of East Harling, 1 April, 1568.—Blomefield's Norfolk, vol. i., p. 326.

COLBY, No. 59 (vol. i., p. 95).

Mr. Frederic T. Colby of Hillsborough Terrace, Ilfracombe, has forwarded the following corrections to the "Colby Pedigree," which appeared in the first volume of the Visitation of Norfolk, and was compiled by the late Mr. G. A. Carthew, viz. :—

Arms: In the Visitation edited for the Harleian Society, the chevron is said to be "engrailed." This seems to be more correct, though, as regards actual practice, the chevron seems to have been borne "plain."

Crest: A broken sword. No mention is made of its being "enlined with blood," as it has usually been borne.

Page 97, l. 7. "Avelina." In the will of John Colby, his wife's name is "Elwyse." (?) a second wife.

„ 95, l. 10. The arms of "Jenkyn" are quartered with "Green" and "Hobart" on a cup which belonged to the late G. A. Carthew, Esq. (per bend sinister gules and azure, a lion rampant argent).

„ 95, l. 12. Faith, Agnes. In the Harleian Visitation these two ladies are put in the next generation, which is probably a mistake, as they are not mentioned in Edward Colby's will.

Page 96, l. 3-5. "Buried at Cawston, 20 April." Rather "10 July, 1638." On the 20 April, 1645, the burial of Anne, wife of Tho. Colby, is worded, so that Dr. Colby must have married twice.
"Dorothy mar. Bulwer." According to Davy, Dorothy mar. Michael Robinson of Norwich, in 1621.

,, 96, l. 13. For "Archer" read "Arthur."

,, 97, l. 4-5. "Rob. Southwell." According to the Visitation of Suffolk, 1561, ed. Metcalfe, p. 17, she mar. Rob. Nicholls of Brundish.

,, 97, l. 11. According to the Visitation of Suffolk, 1612, ed. Metcalfe, p. 127, Beatrice Felton was Thomas Colby's second wife, and the mother of his children; and this is undoubtedly the correct statement.

,, 97, l. 16. For "Brewse" read "Brend." Visitation of Suffolk, p. 18 and 11.

,, 97, l. 26. In this generation the following eight sons and four daughters are mentioned in the Visitation of Suffolk, besides the eldest son Thomas:—

Charles 2, John 3, Edmond 5 (all 3 ob. s.p.), Anthony 4.

Philip 6 (presumed to be Philip Colby of Culford, Esq., 1625 (two deeds extant), mar. 1609, Dorothy, second daughter of Sir Nicholas Bacon, Knt. and Bart., and widow of Sir Bassingbourn Gawdy, Bart. She died 20 Dec., 1621, æt.47.

There was a daughter by this marriage.

Francis 7 (of Harkstead, Suff., Gent., of the Privy Chamber to Prince Henry, and Serjeant at Arms, mar. Margaret, daughter and coheir of George Sampson of Sampson's Hall, Kersey, and had a son Hertford, æt. 1, 1612).

Huntingdon 8. Knighted 28 Nov., 1616.

Beatrice mar. Edw. Thurston of Colchester.

Mary mar. John Copuldyke of Kirby, Suff.

Penelope mar. Sir Walter Aston of Aston, Cheshire. (No such Sir Walter appears in the Aston pedigree. (?) of Tixhall, Stafford).

,, 98, l. 1. "Philip Colby." It is proved from the Kensington parish register that this Philip's father was not Thomas Colby, but another Philip Colby, who founded the family at Kensington, and who mar., 3 Feb., 1634-5, Rebecca, daughter of Samuel Turbellville, and was buried at Kensington, 4 Sept., 1666; she was buried 12 Nov., 1653. Was the elder Philip a son of Thomas Colby of Beccles, or of his brother Philip?

,, 98, l. 7. "His"; whose? What went to the Bullocks was probably Flewellyn property. Sir Thomas Colby left a will bequeathing his house and lands to his "loving kinsman and namesake, Thomas Colby." Elizabeth Colby of Kensington mar. Thomas Aspley of St. Mary Aldermanbury, merchant, at St. Paul's, Covent Garden, 27 Sept., 1679.

,, 98, l. 9. Sir Thomas Colby was a Commissioner R.N., M.P. for Rochester, 1724-7. His portrait hangs in the Guildhall, Rochester."
